

Skate the Dirty

issue number two

keeping it dirty since...umm...last year!!!

Table of Content

pg. 6-Birmingham needs a skatepark!

pg. 7-14-Turner's Day Off.

pg. 15-Mailorder Kills!!

pg. 17-18-Nashville Trip.

pg. 19-23-One Year Anniversary.

pg. 26-28-The Jams

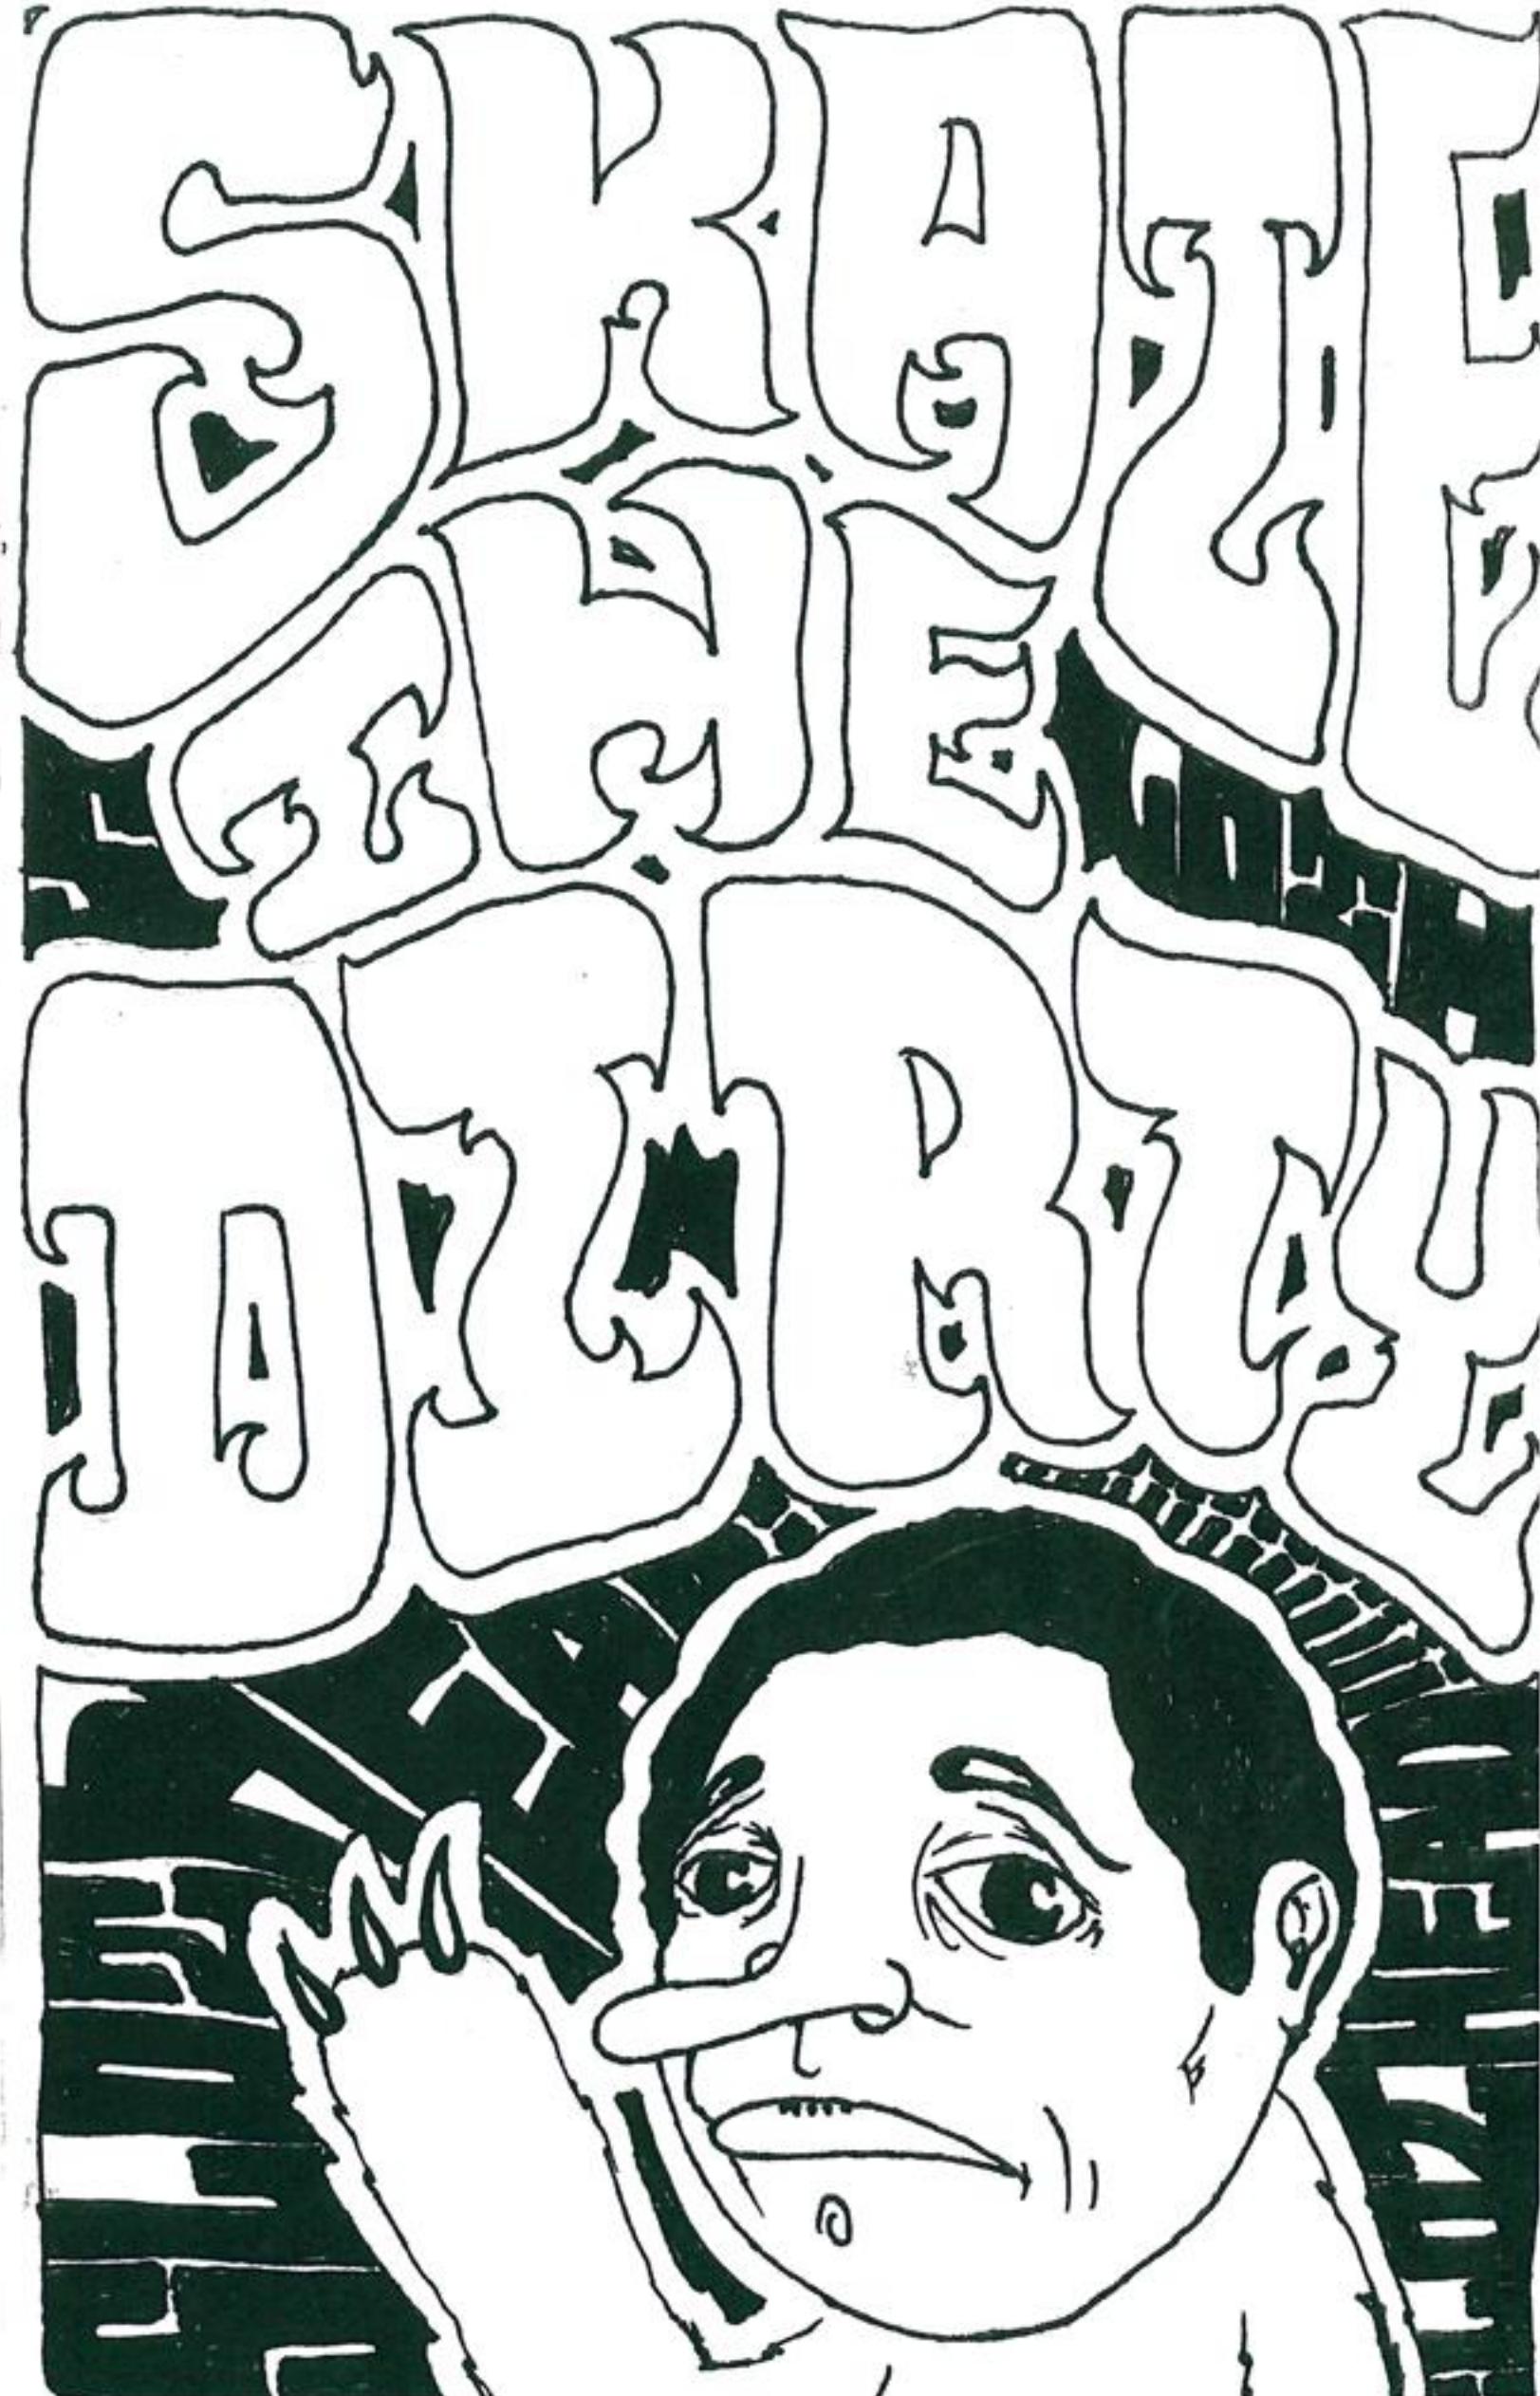

pg. 30-34-On the Road.

All photos courtesy of Daniel Lawson.
All drawings courtesy of David Wright.*

I DOUBT W!

It's been a longtime coming but, FINALLY, issue two of your favorite Birmingham zine! We've been hard at work getting photos and setting up the anniversary. This issue covers a couple of topics from an off day, from washing dishes, for a skateboarder. New Music, local issues that are affecting the Birmingham skateboarding scene, and there's even a couple of pages with strictly photos and drawings to veg out on. Thanks for picking up Issue #2!

- STD

OUTSKIRTS!

$15 AVAILABLE @
faithskate supply
www.skatethedirty.com

GET YOURS TODAY!
(don't buy CCS!!!)

Presenting...

SAM NUMBER
ONE STUNNA!
MOSKOV

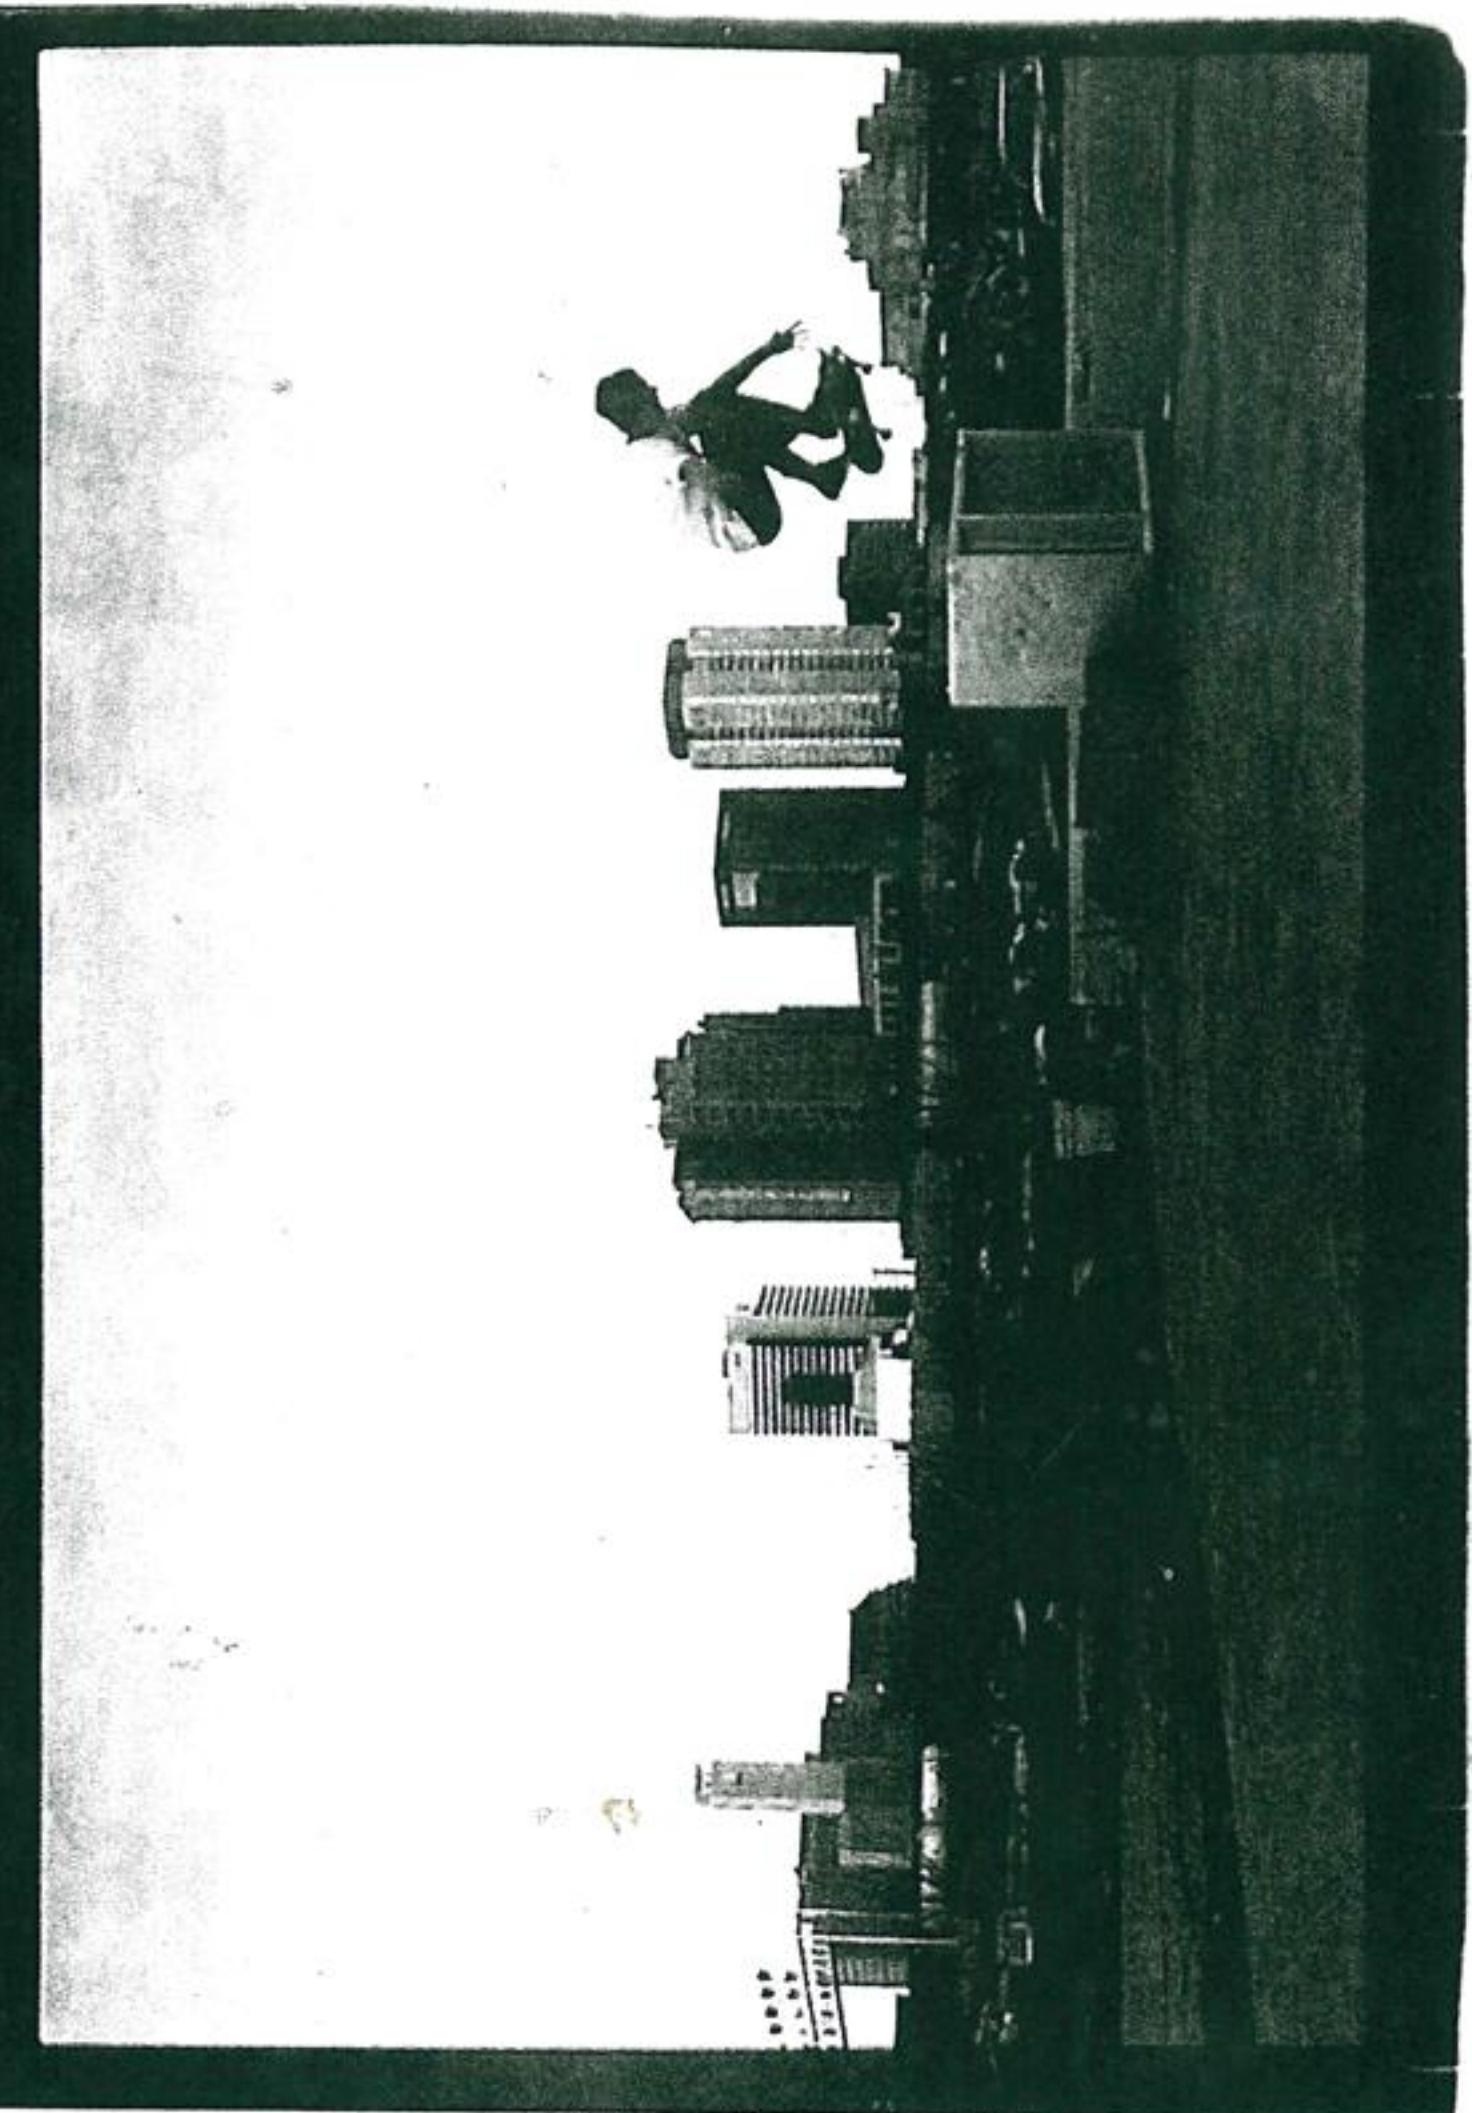

I'D LIKE TO APOLOGIZE,
IN ADVANCE, FOR MY ACTIONS TONIGHT...

BIRMINGHAM NEEDS A SKATEPARK!

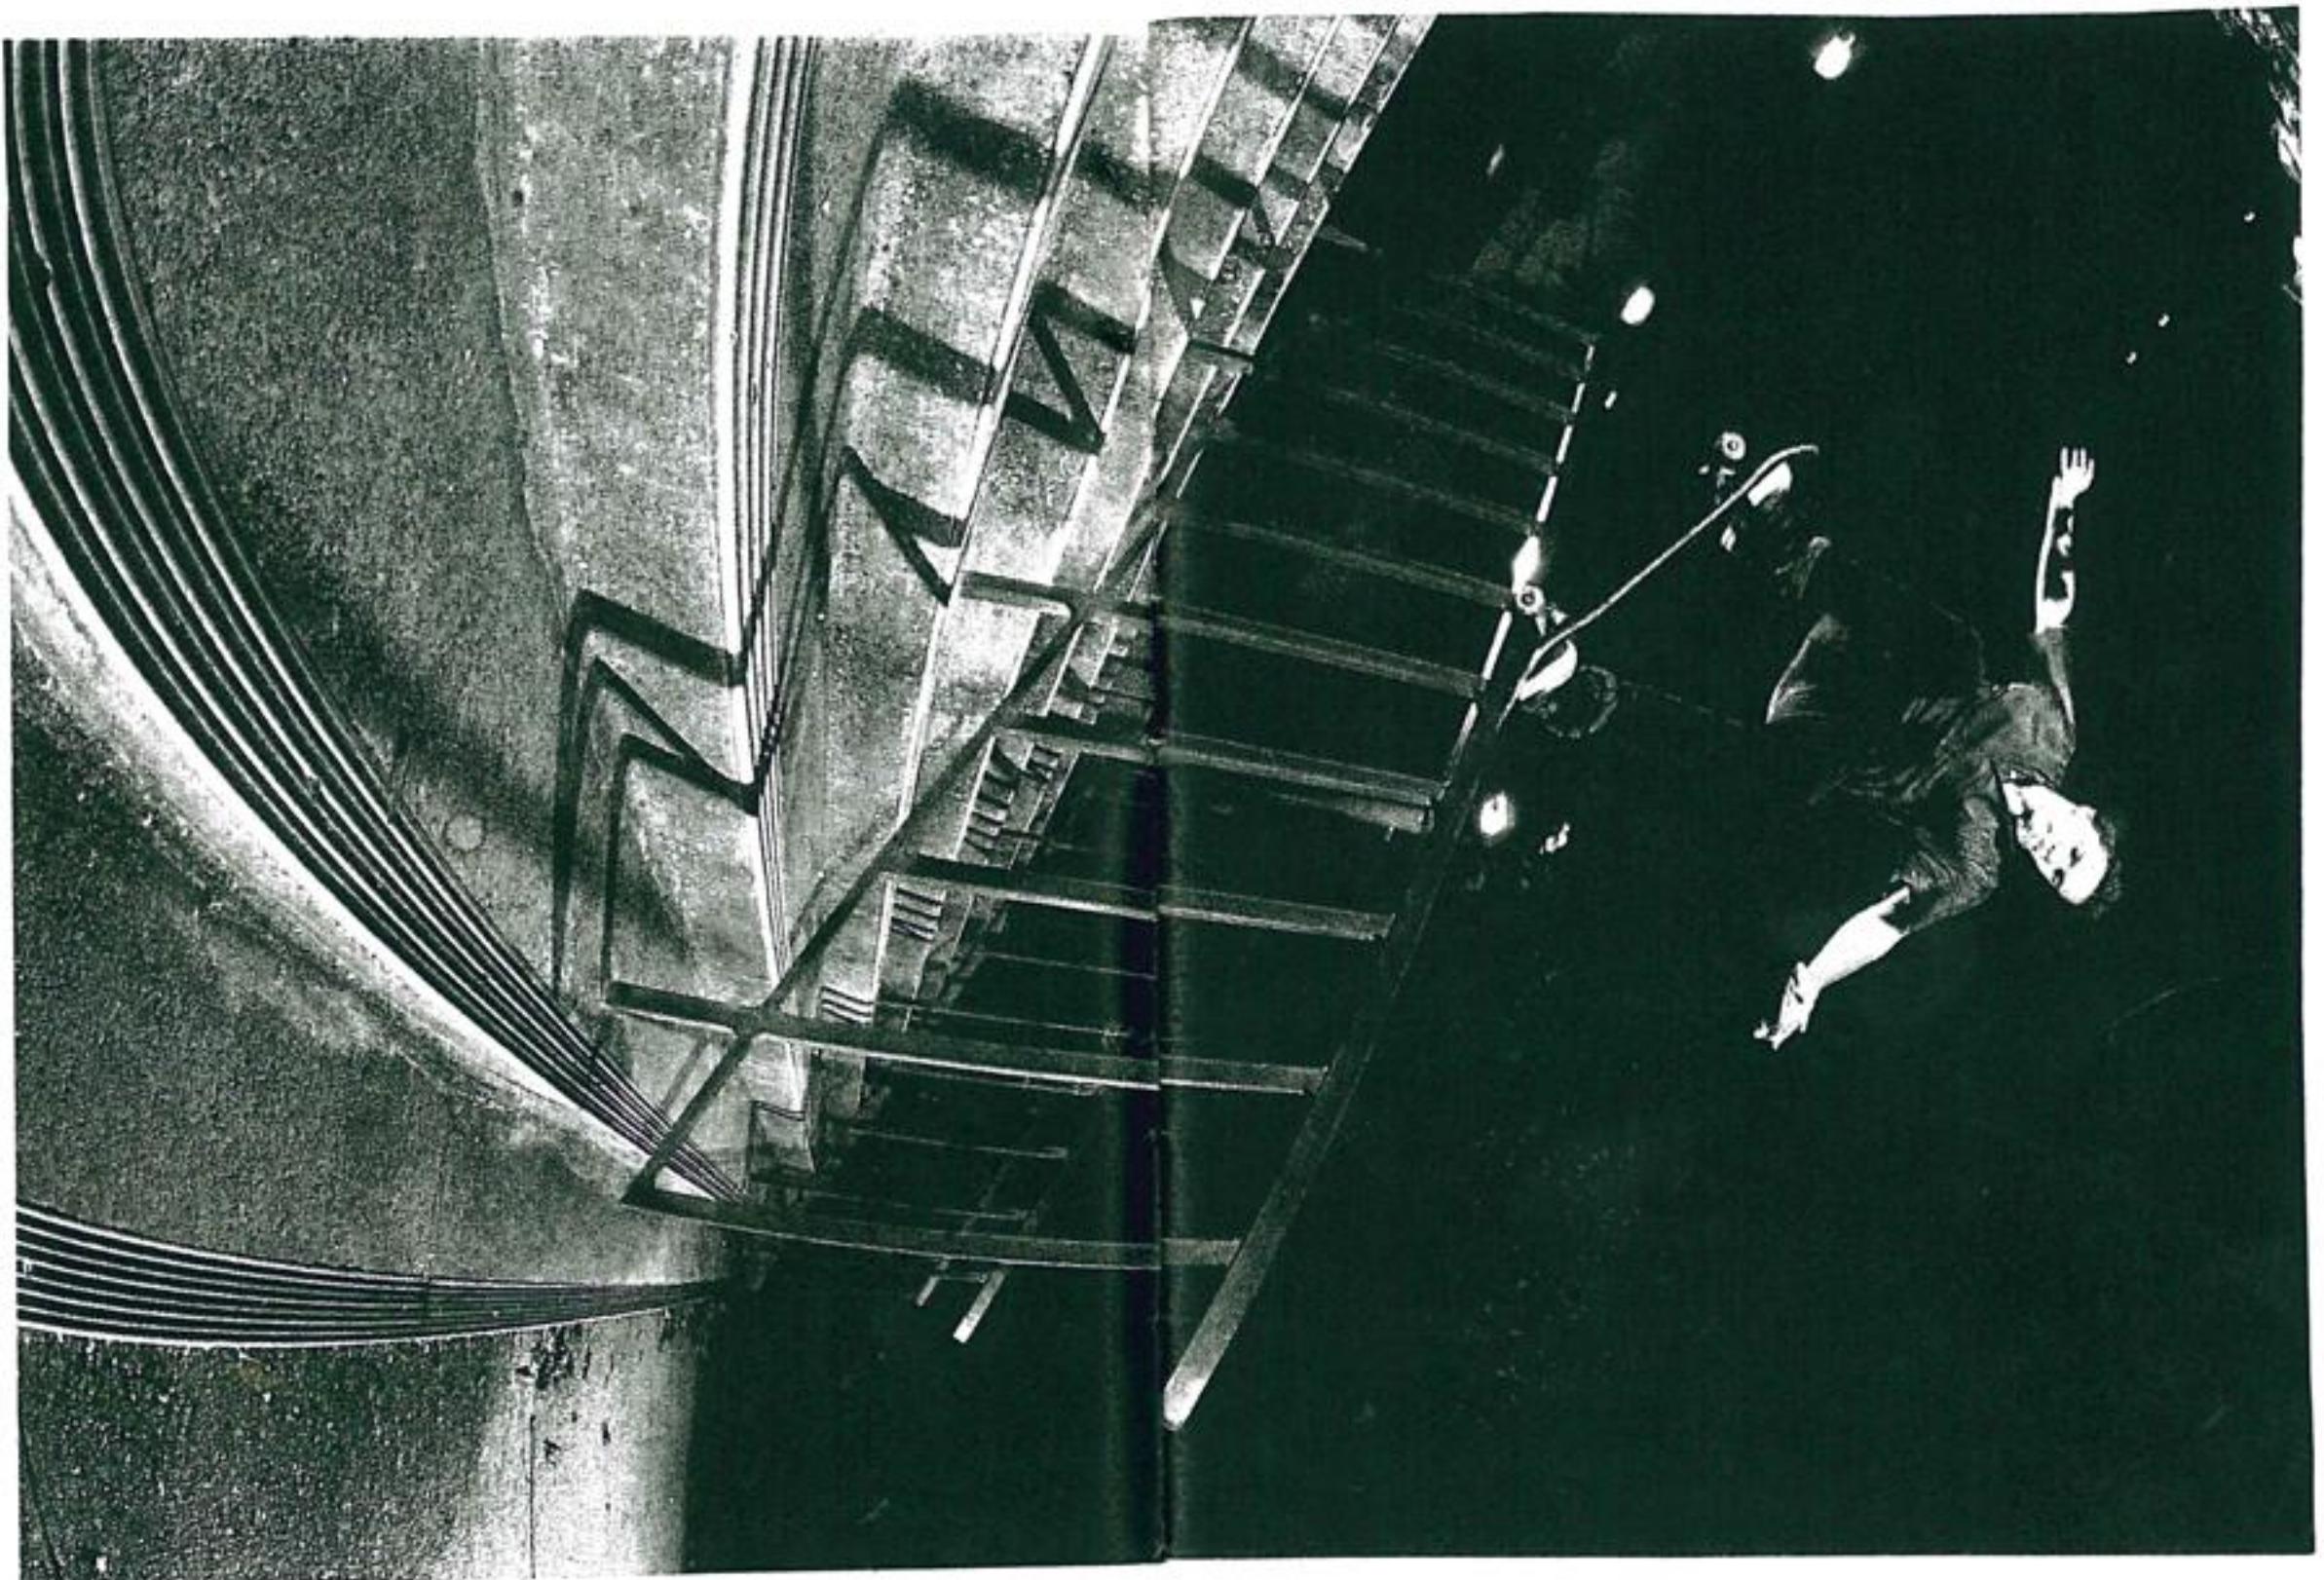

SKATEBOARDING SHOULDN'T BE A CRIME!

presenting...

TURNER'S DAY OFF!

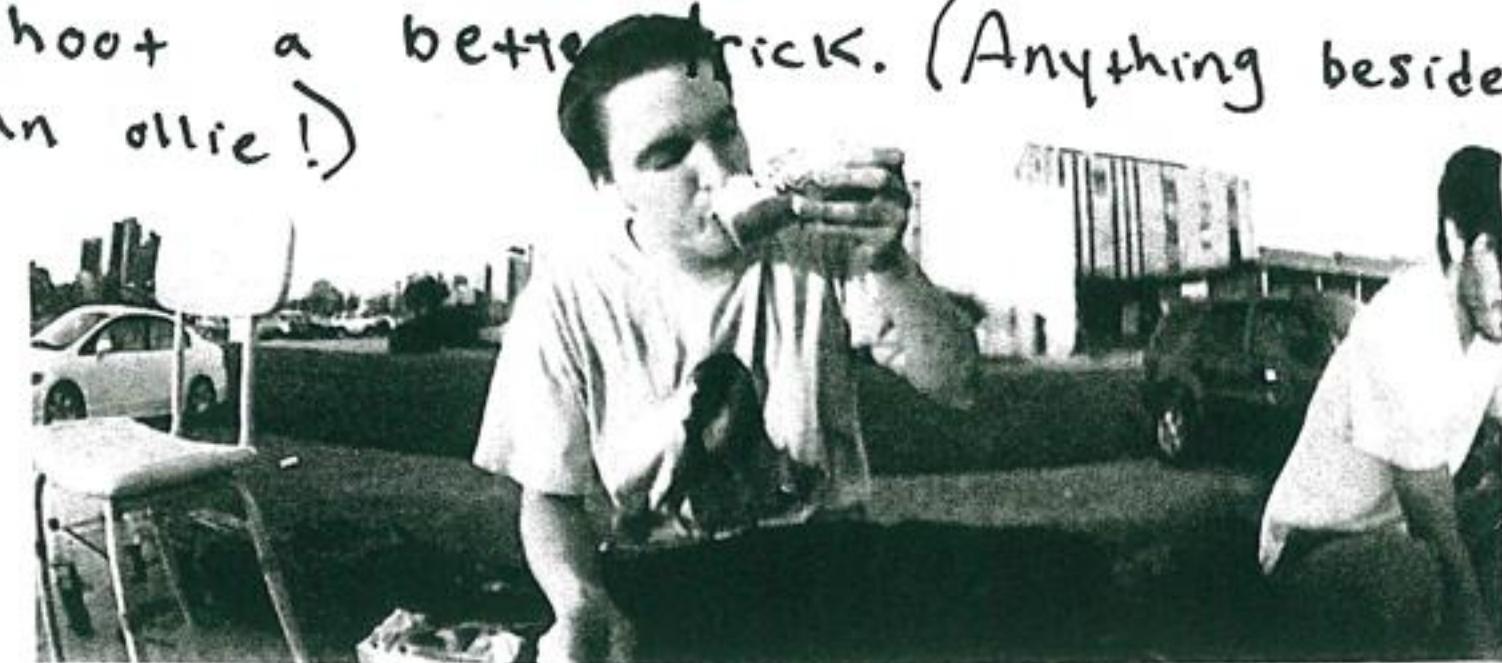

Turner usually lets me know a few days ahead when he's off to shoot or skate or whatever. I'm usually always stoked. One day I get a call from Turner and we meet at the shop or the shoe factory. (praying to god we don't stay there til fucking dusk like always)!!! I Mean I like the shoe factory and all, it's fun to skate, but shit lets ride our skateboards on the street, dayum! Charlie sparks the great idea of ollieing over the jaguar 8. Hearing the idea i was psyched on ~~the~~

~~the~~ A different spot. Although Charlie wasn't equipped with the supplies to make ollie go down, Turner said "fuck it, it's my off day, i'll ollie it. Sure enough i set the white balance got an angle and within a few tries

Not all hyped on just an ollie i decided we'd come back and re-> shoot a better trick. (Anything besides an ollie!)

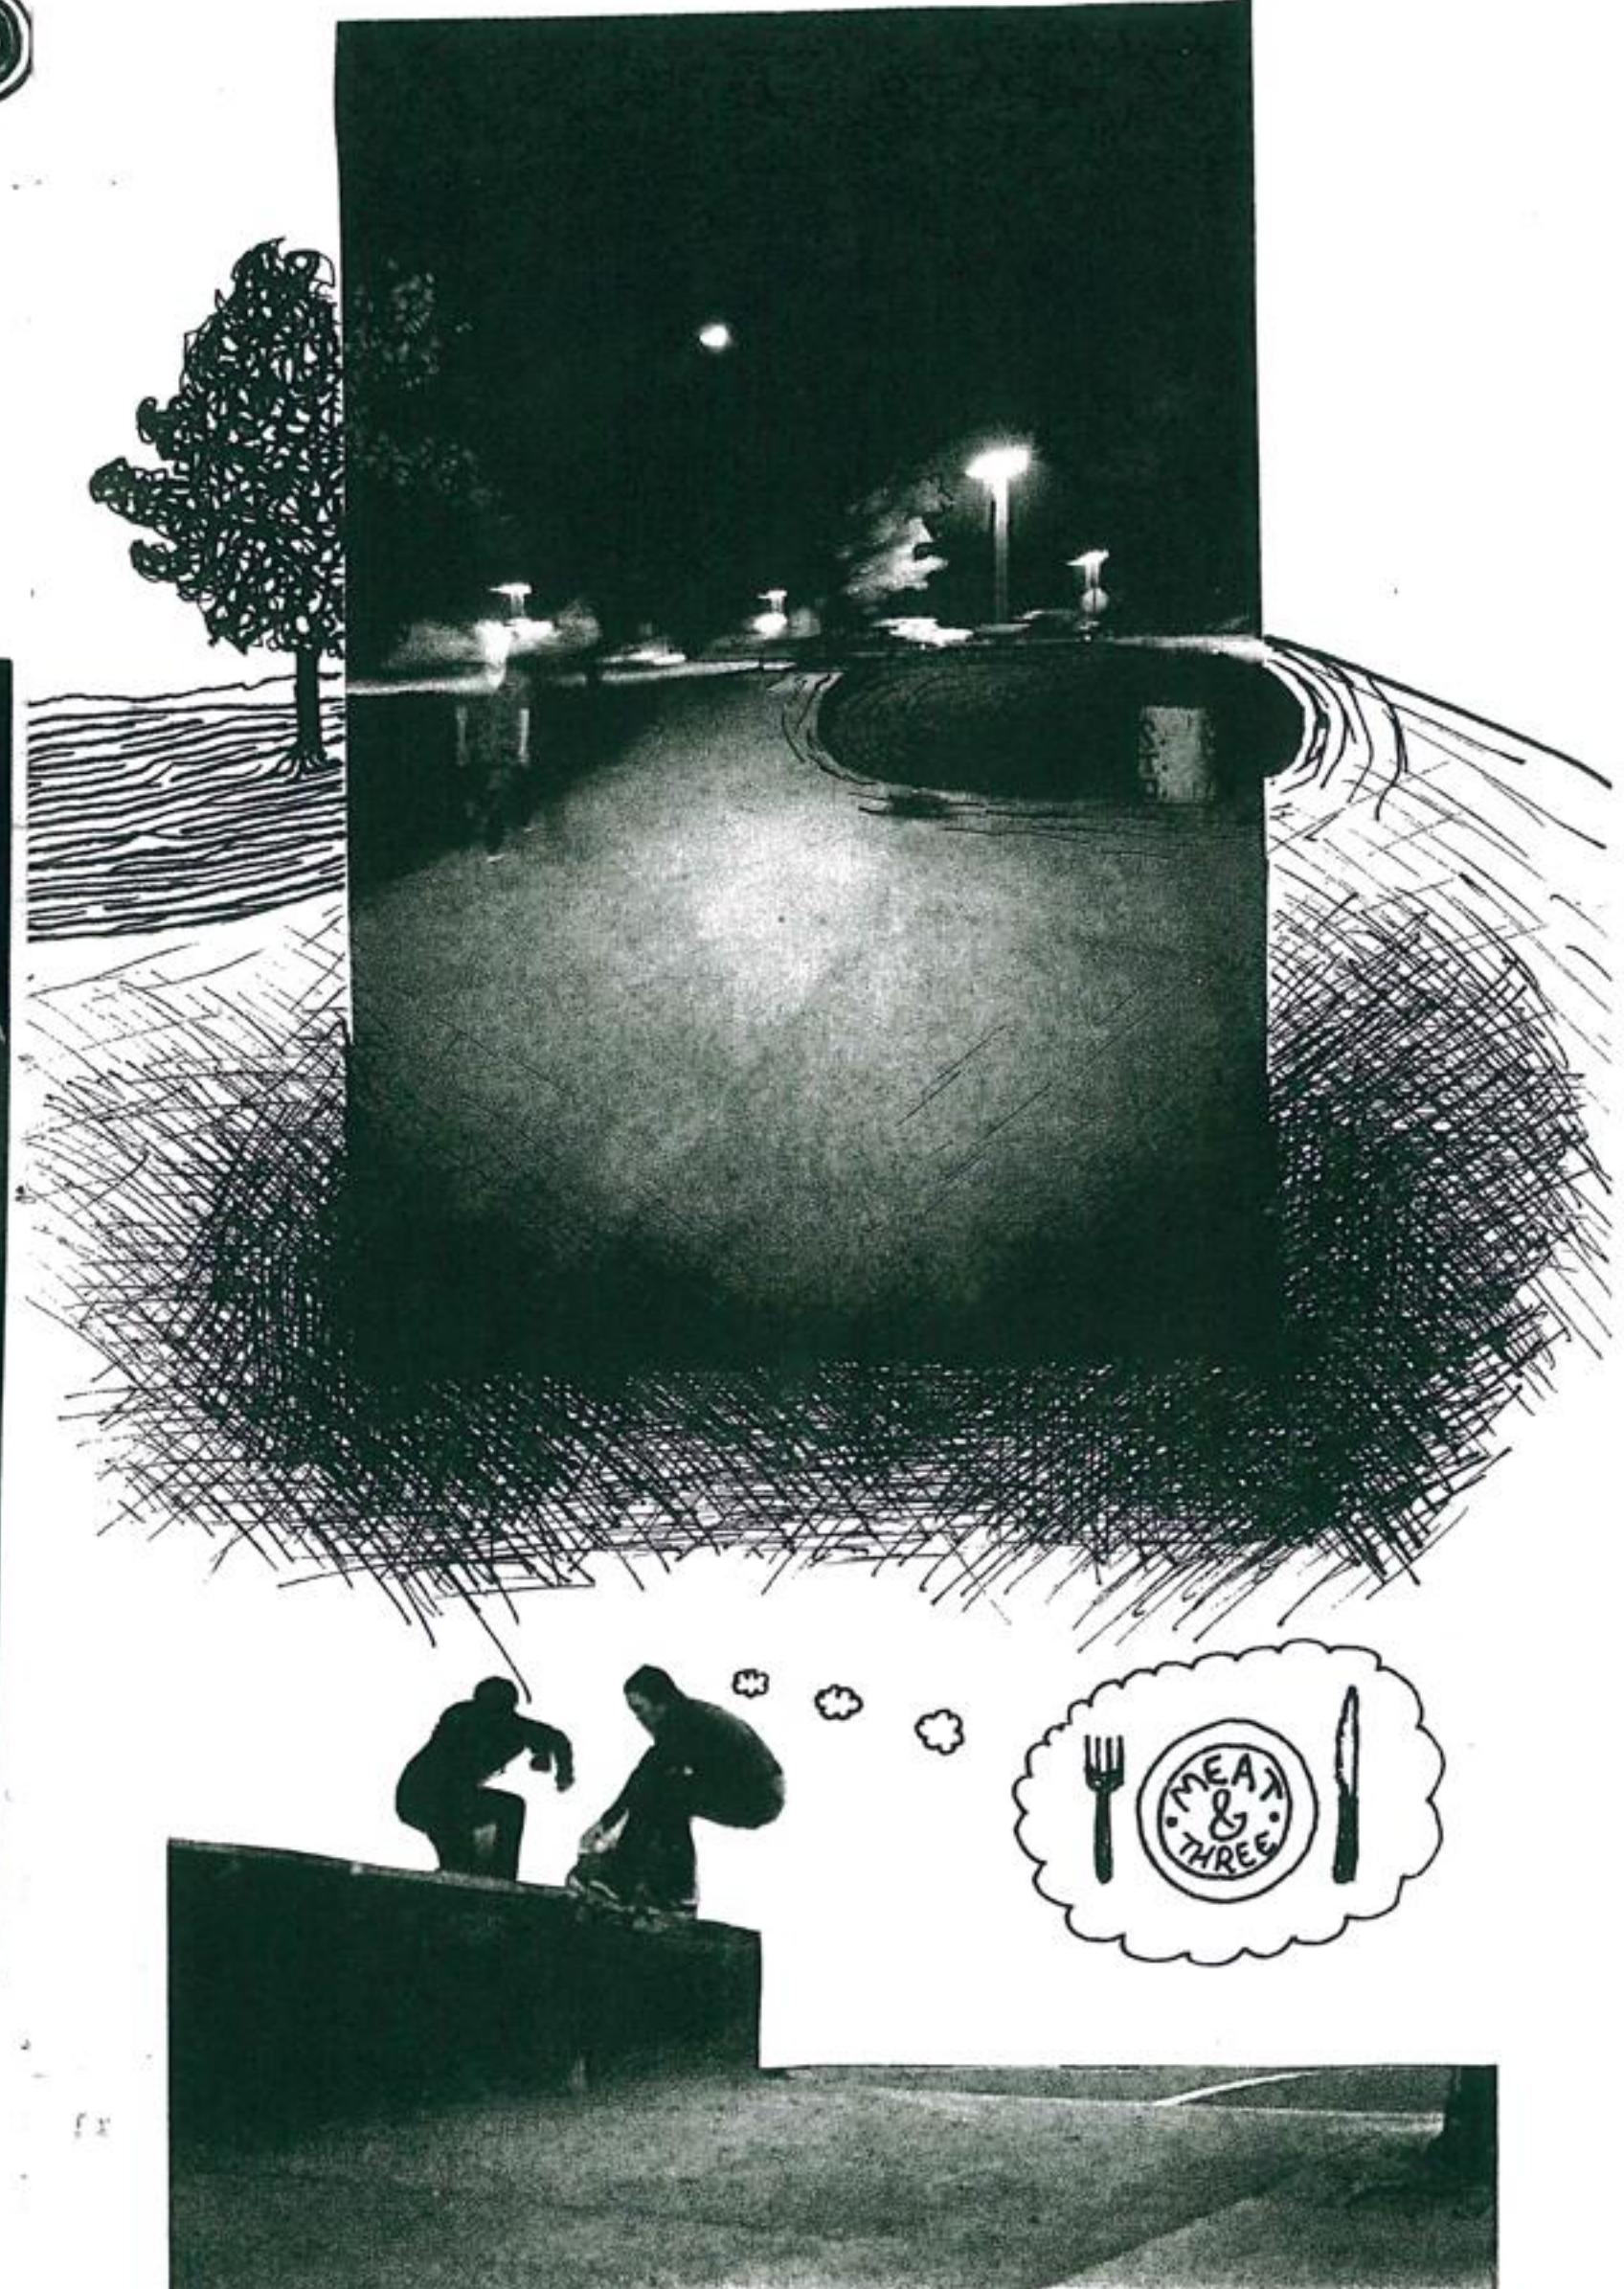

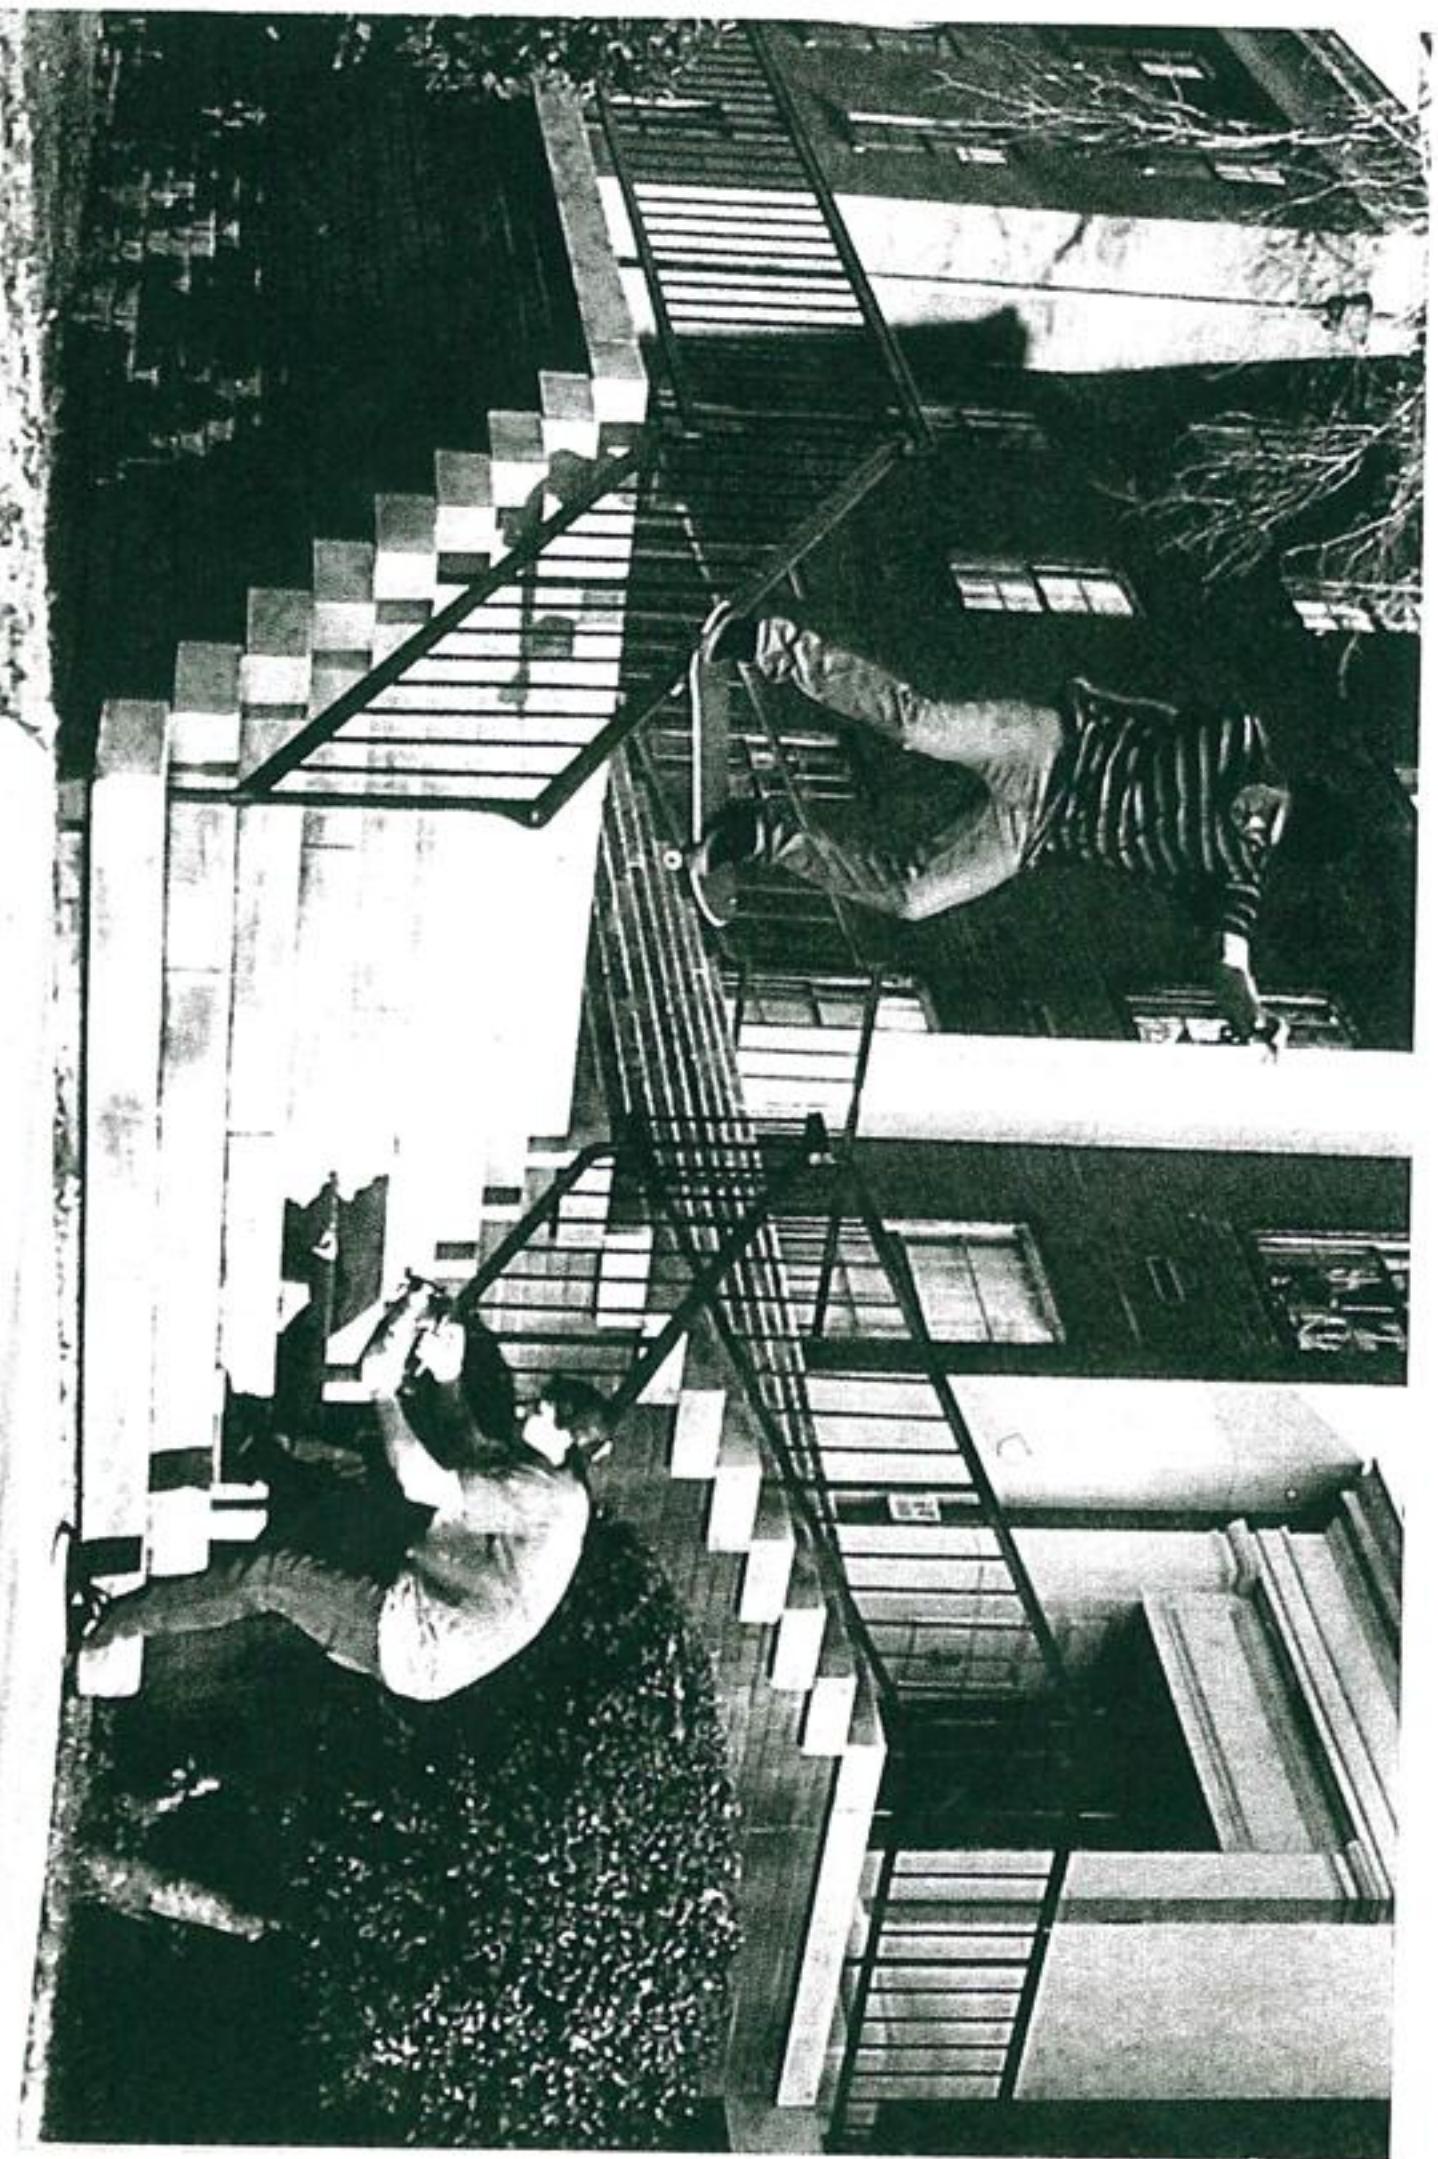

Later on in the evening After goin' taking a look at the hotel rail's perfect-ness - Realizing that it was a tuesday night i figured - why the hell not try to skate a spot we usually get the boot at

29

So nowadays it's like dudes have full time jobs. Dudes like Turner Little, now grown ass manning it up player!! WOOHOO! Anyways, this 40 hour work week deal, kinda fucks up the whole "let's skate every day and get mad photos and shit" scenario up to the fullest. But, however days can sometimes be nice

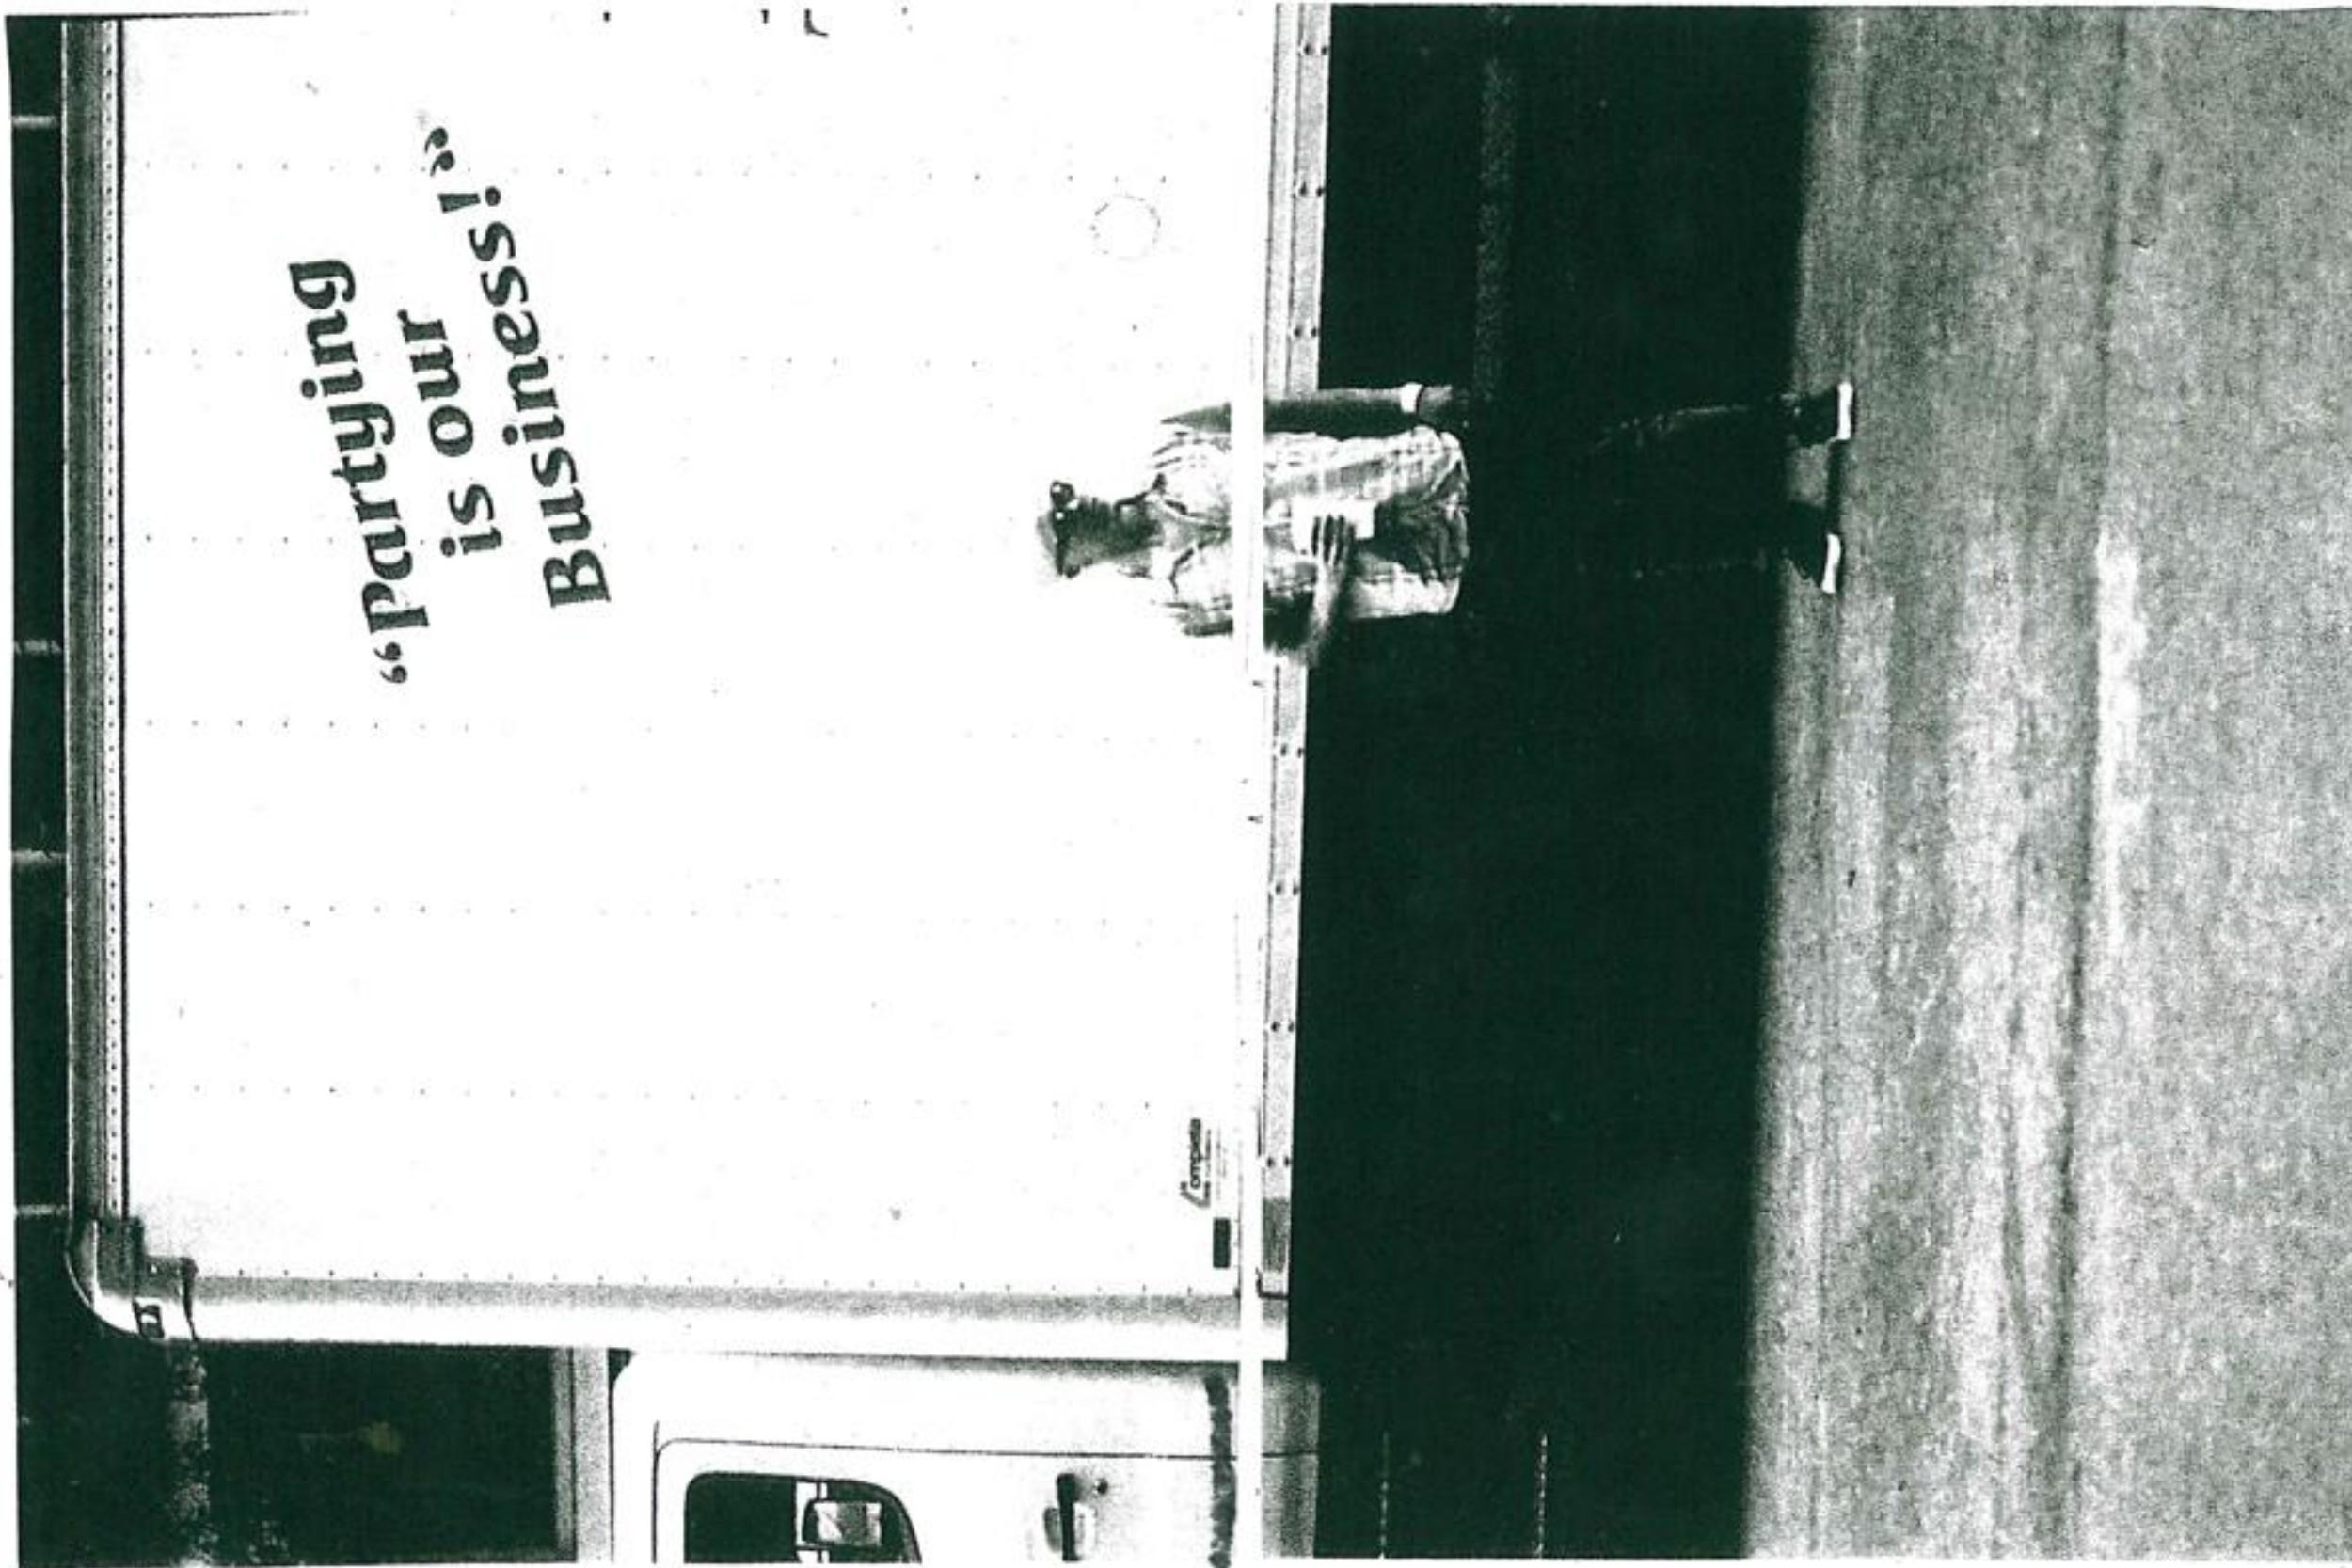

MAILORDER KILLS

Not long ago Birmingham was dealt another hurdle for the skateboarding scene to jump... A damn CCS store conveniently placed in the suburbs of Hoover. I know you may be thinking "Isn't it just helping the cause of skateboarding in the Southeast?" That's what they would like you to think. ~~and~~ ^{But} in the long run, a corporation like CCS are only worried about the greenbacks. Like many national/international corporations, CCS is not worried about the small independently owned businesses they affect by taking over any customers the smaller shops would have with lower prices due to mass production. Basically, if not stopped, the CCS store will eventually put Faith Skate Supply (the heart of everything that's Alabama Skateboarding) out of business for good. You can help stop this by not giving your money to the CCS store, not being employed by them, and any other resistant action towards the corporation. DON'T BUY INTO THE DEATH OF ALABAMA SKATEBOARDING!!!!!!

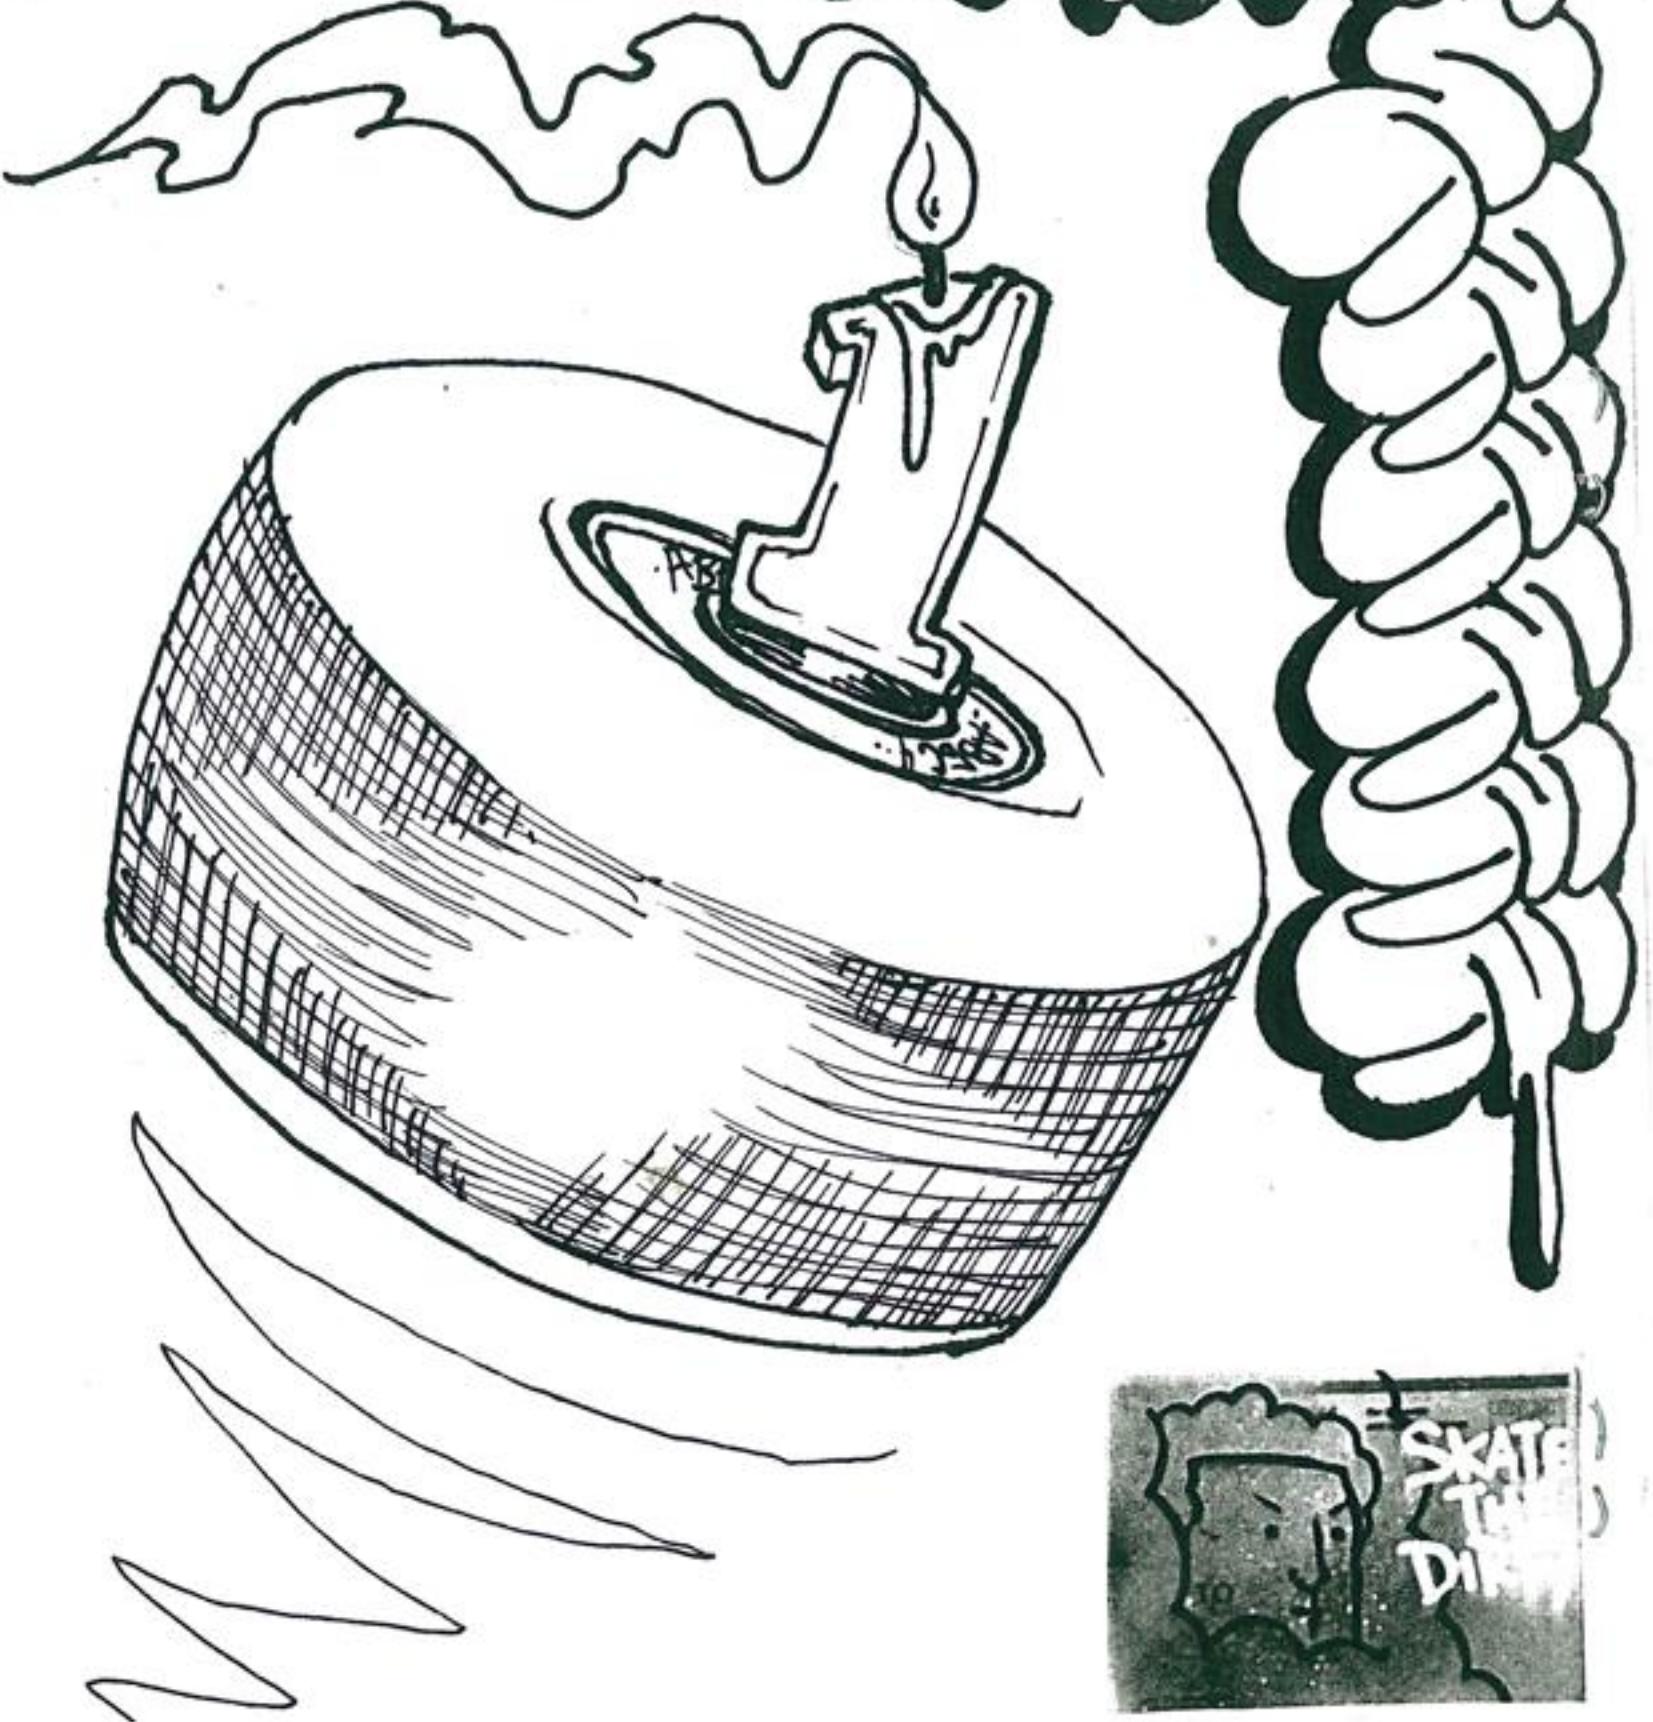

The Infamous Trip to Nashville.

Party ing
is our Business!

• • •

1 YEAR ANNIVERSARY

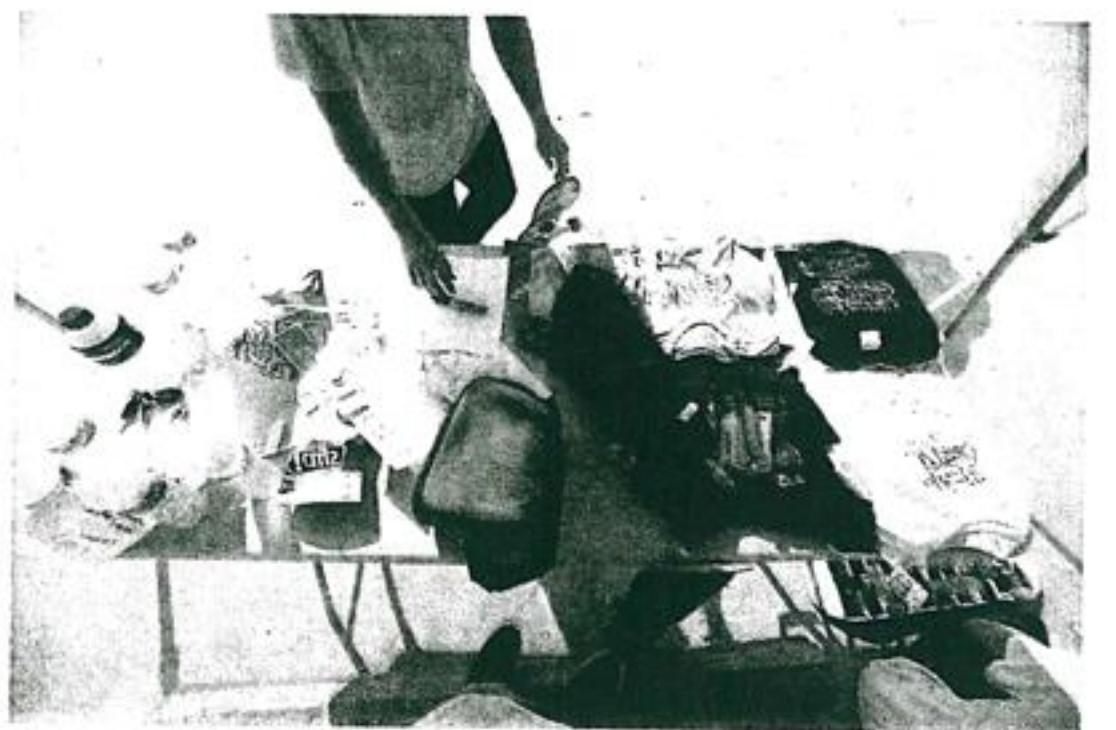

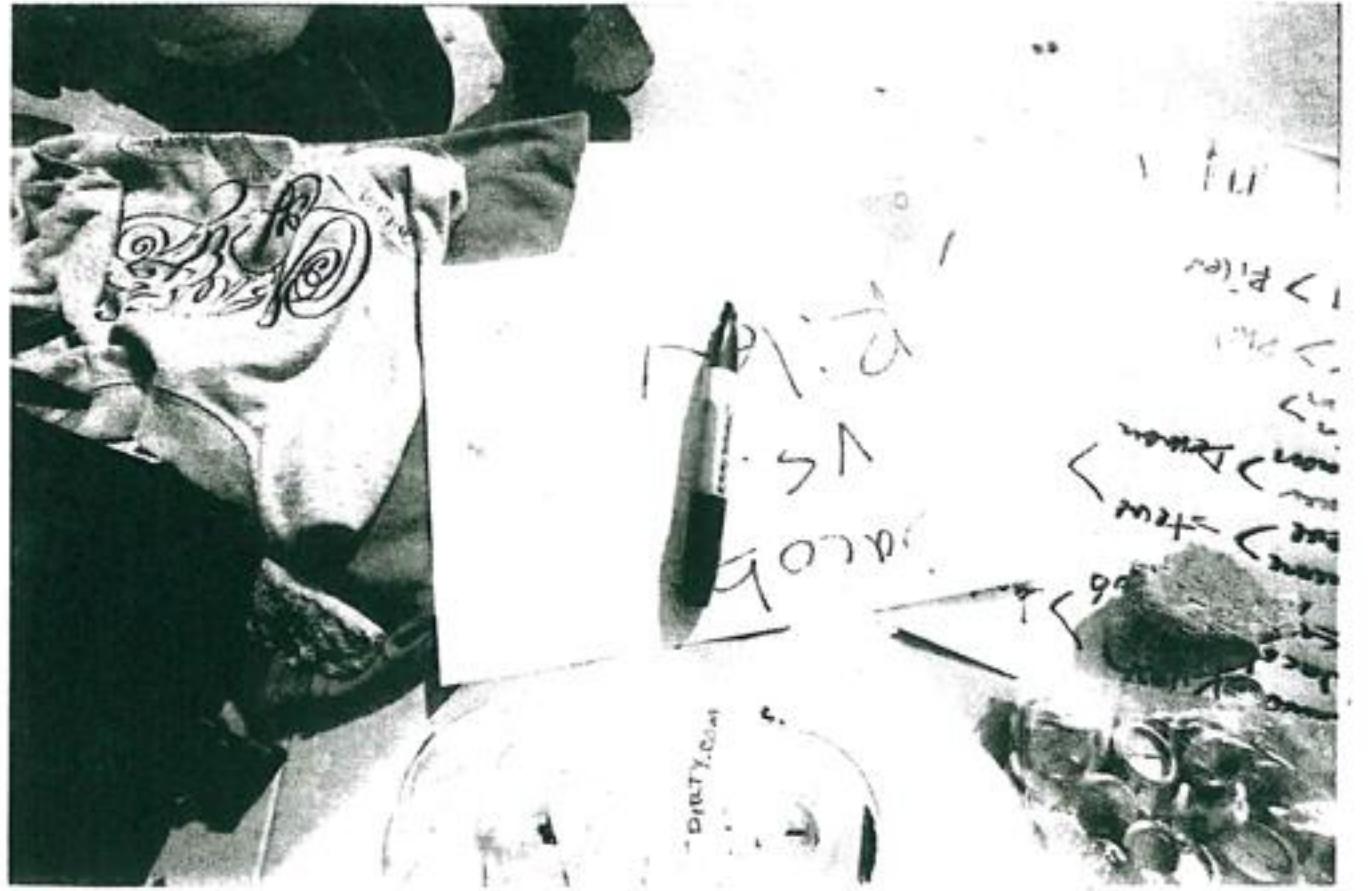

With a 1 year anniversary approaching, Davey (David Wright) AKA 'a true homie to the Bham skateboarding scene' wasted absolutely none of his time - He got down to business and made 205 hand drawn and spray painted stickers. (yes, 205 would be quite REP) for the shirts + posters we printed 'til 4am the night before.

Homies came out for the game of SKATE and threw down for the best trick on the 'death rail'. A local ginger and posagger took their gold before a nasty storm came a brewin' over Birmingham. (20)

WHAT TO LOOK FO'!

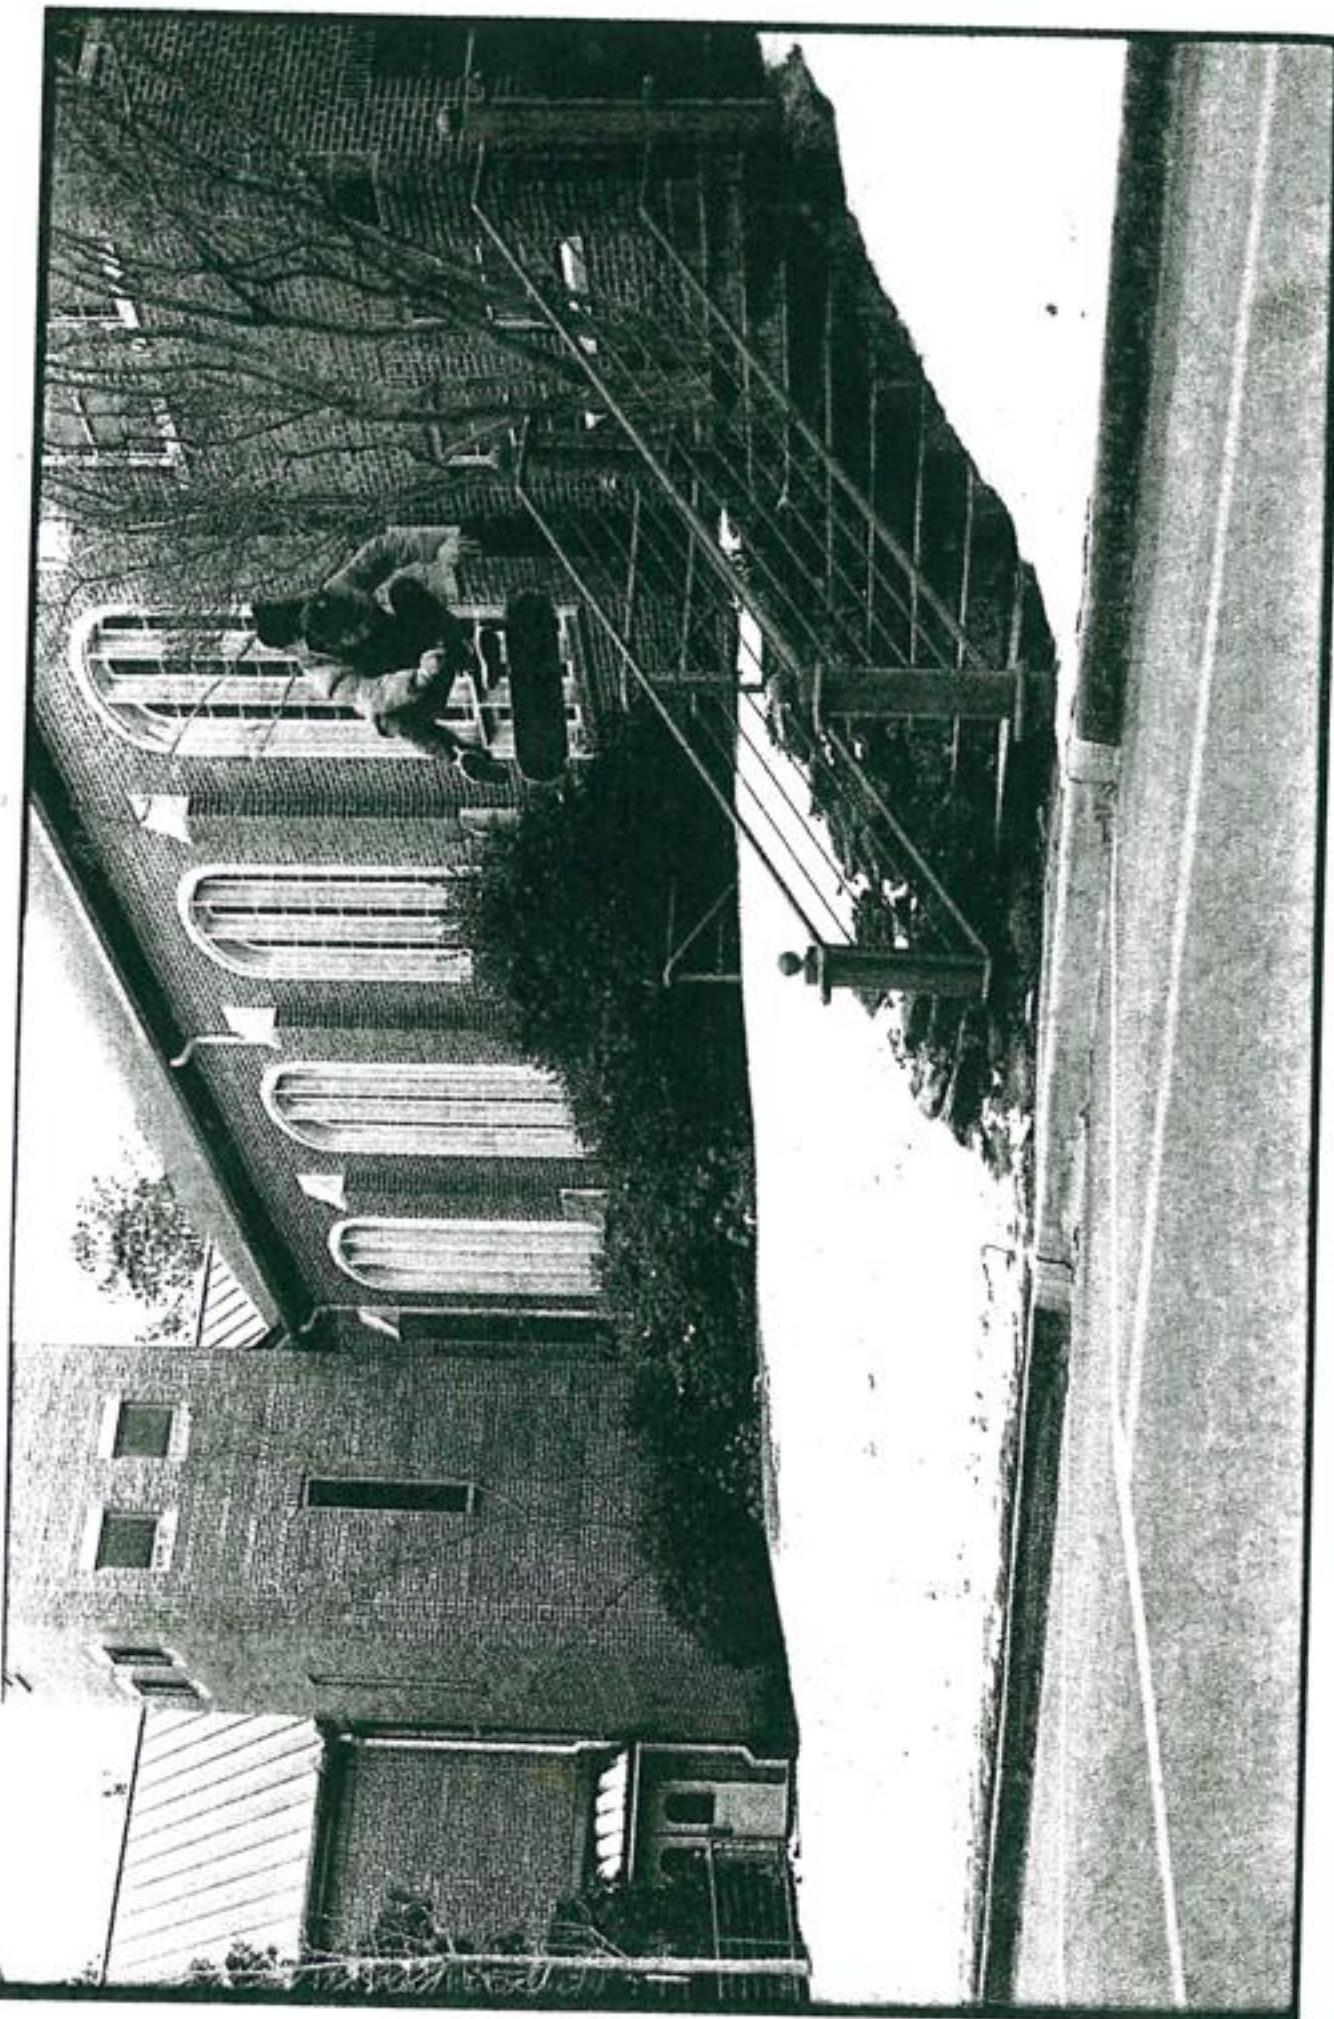

- ① STD 2nd year Anniversary — in August
expect heavy shredding, beer drinking and hill bombing.
- ② Collaboration w/the mainstream → Focus Skate Mag

Ross da Procc. aotin.com

GRANDE MAW

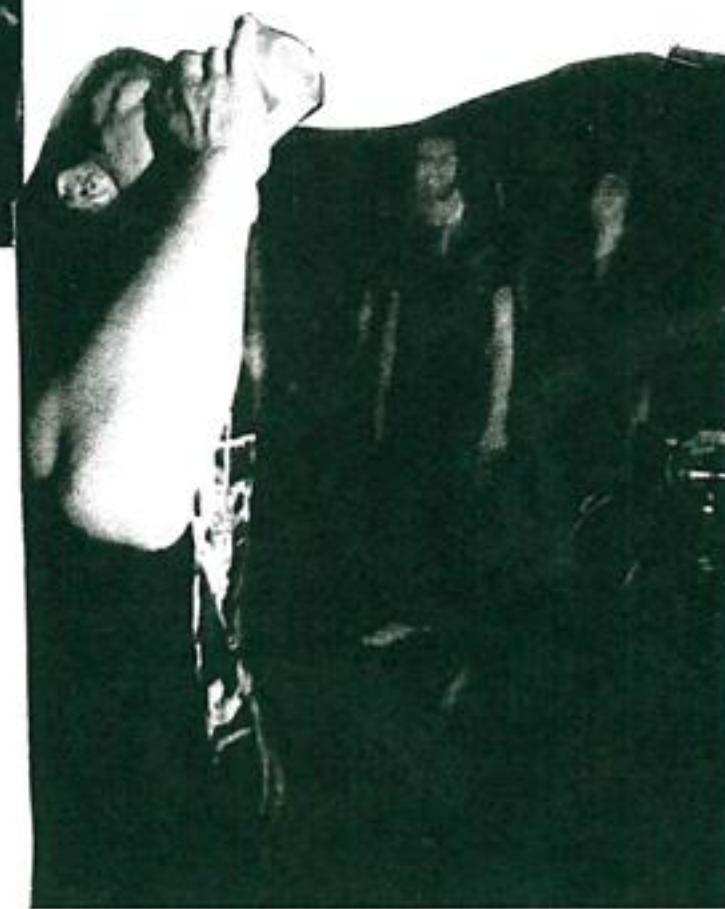

GRANDE MAW

from the woods in Montevallo, AL

stoner metal sounds
~~with~~ with flying guitar
riffs (feat. chuck)

All under the raspy
vocal chords of
David Wright

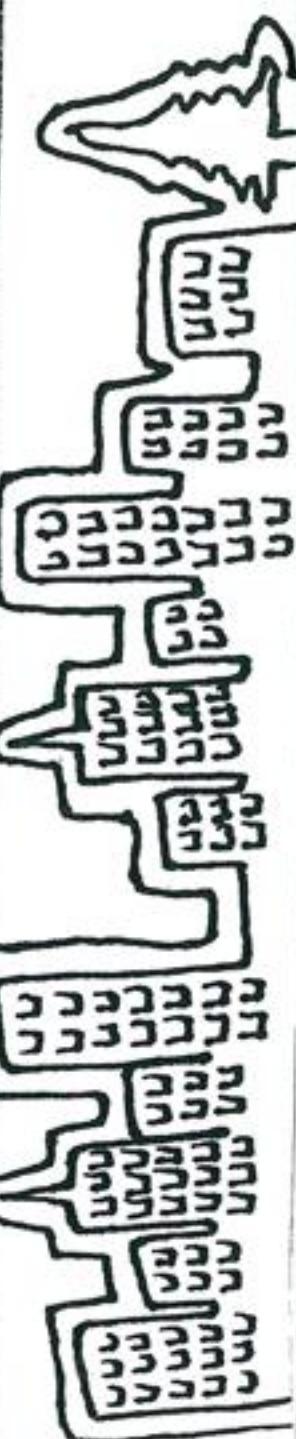

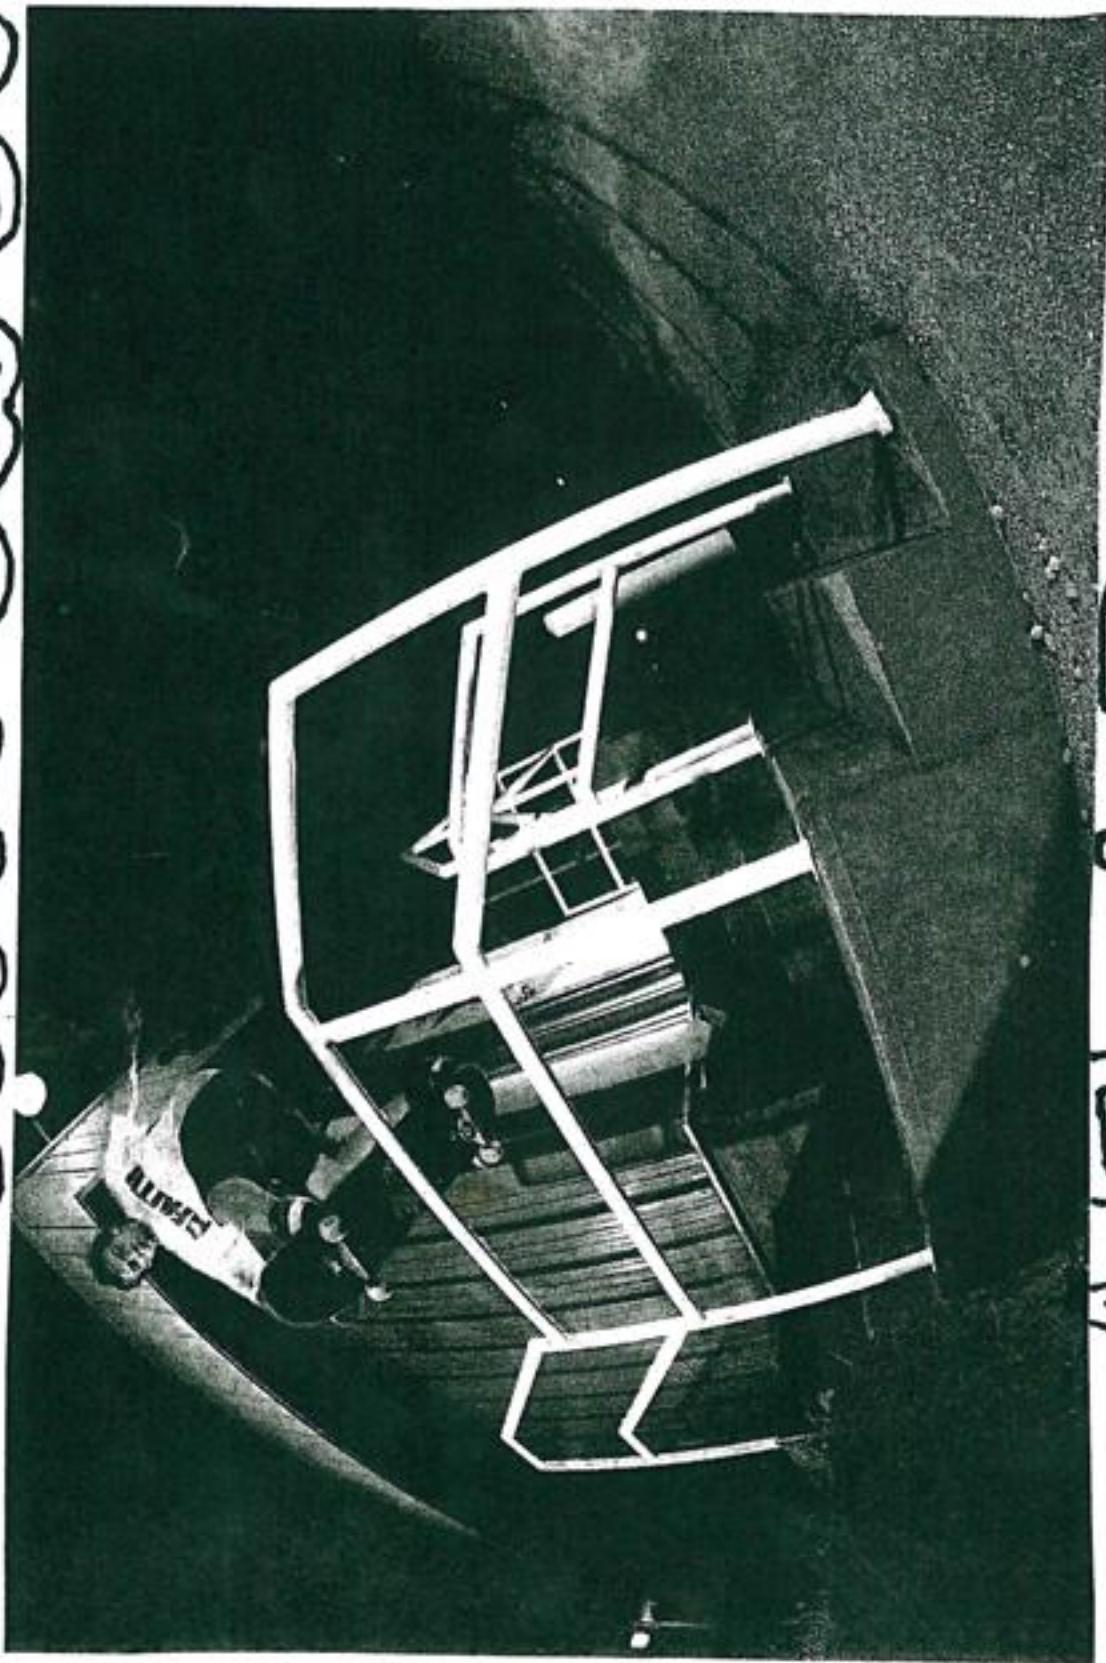

R.I.P. GRANDE MAW 2010

Dave gets it on the floor
better than DMX here
... crowd approves.

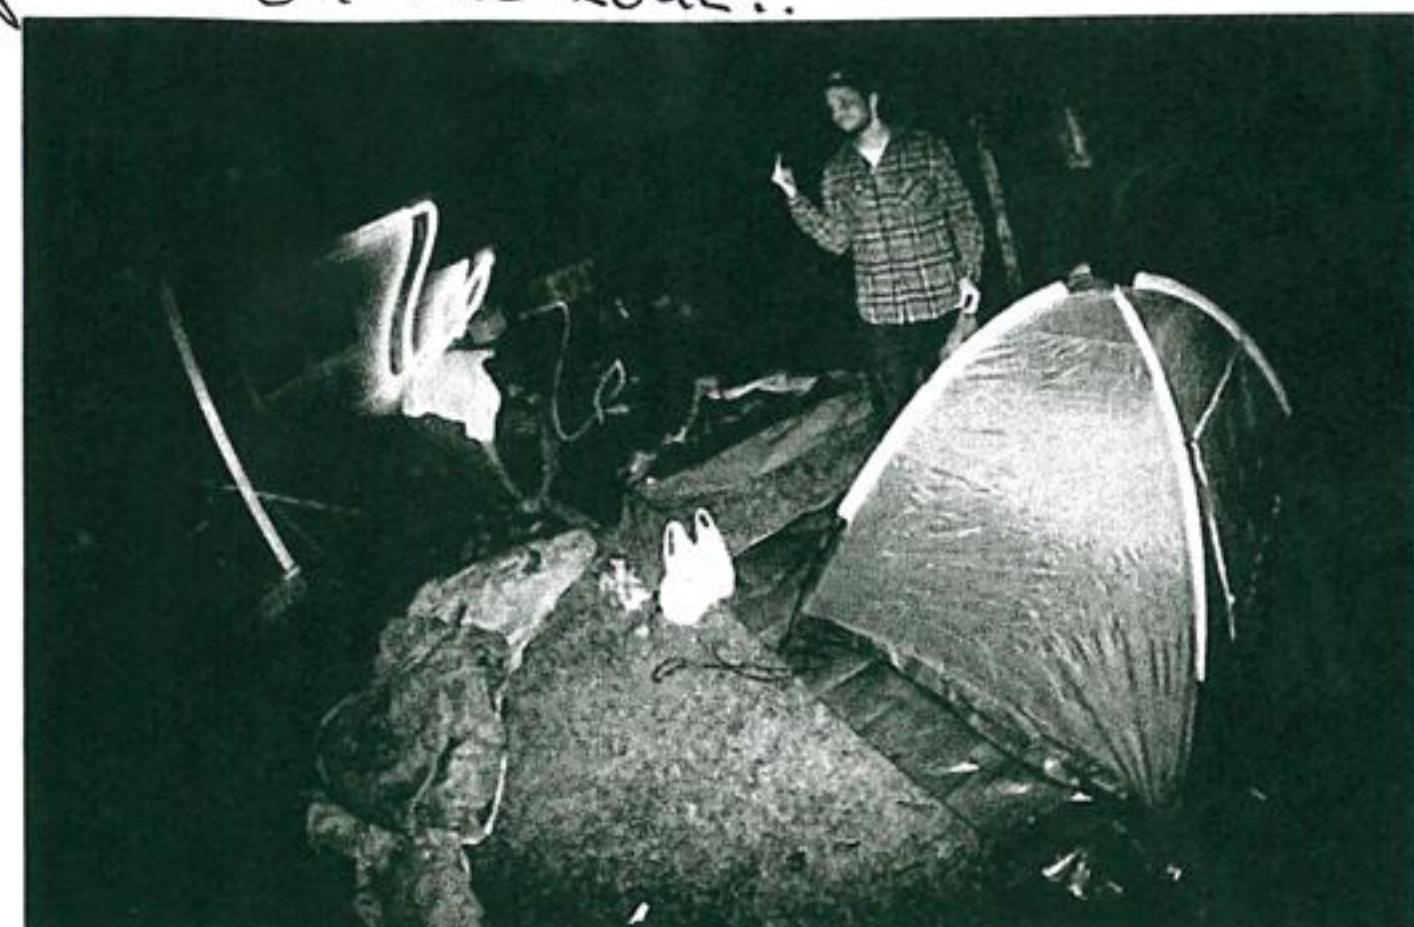

R.I.P. ERIC WRIGHT

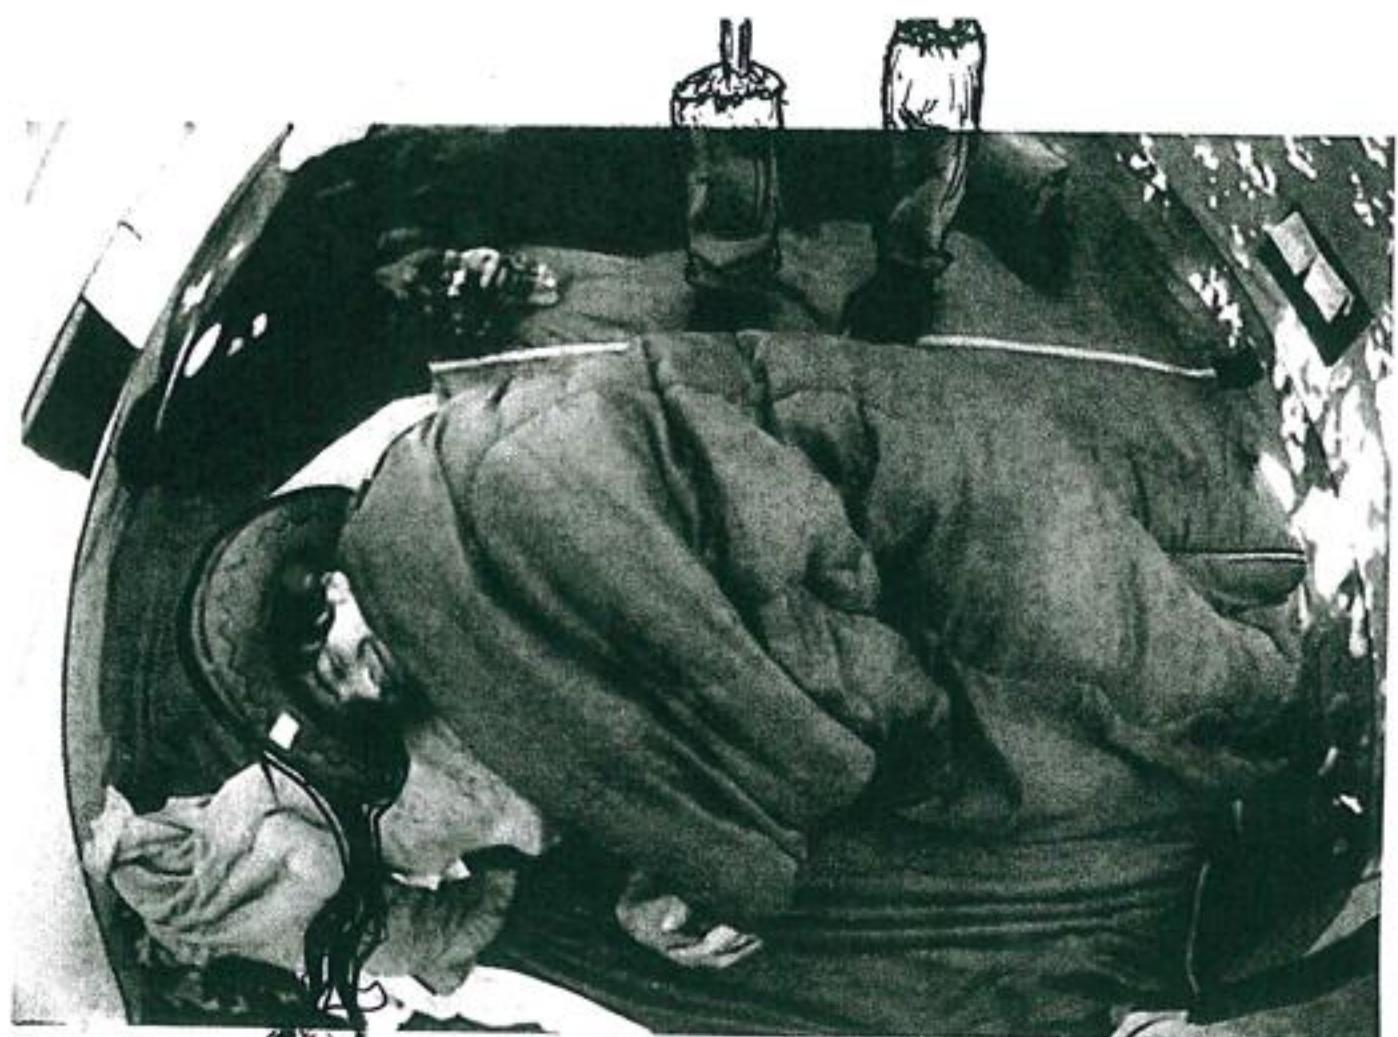

Moon down pitches 'em like a pro!

Cramming in a van with homies and
cruising on
the continued
strip of I-65 is good for the weekend. Espec.
if skating, camping
steaks on the grill and cold beer is involved. Whether it's grillin' the steak, pitchin' the tent, or blasting huge airs... homies ALWAYS get it in!
On The Road..

ON THE ROAD

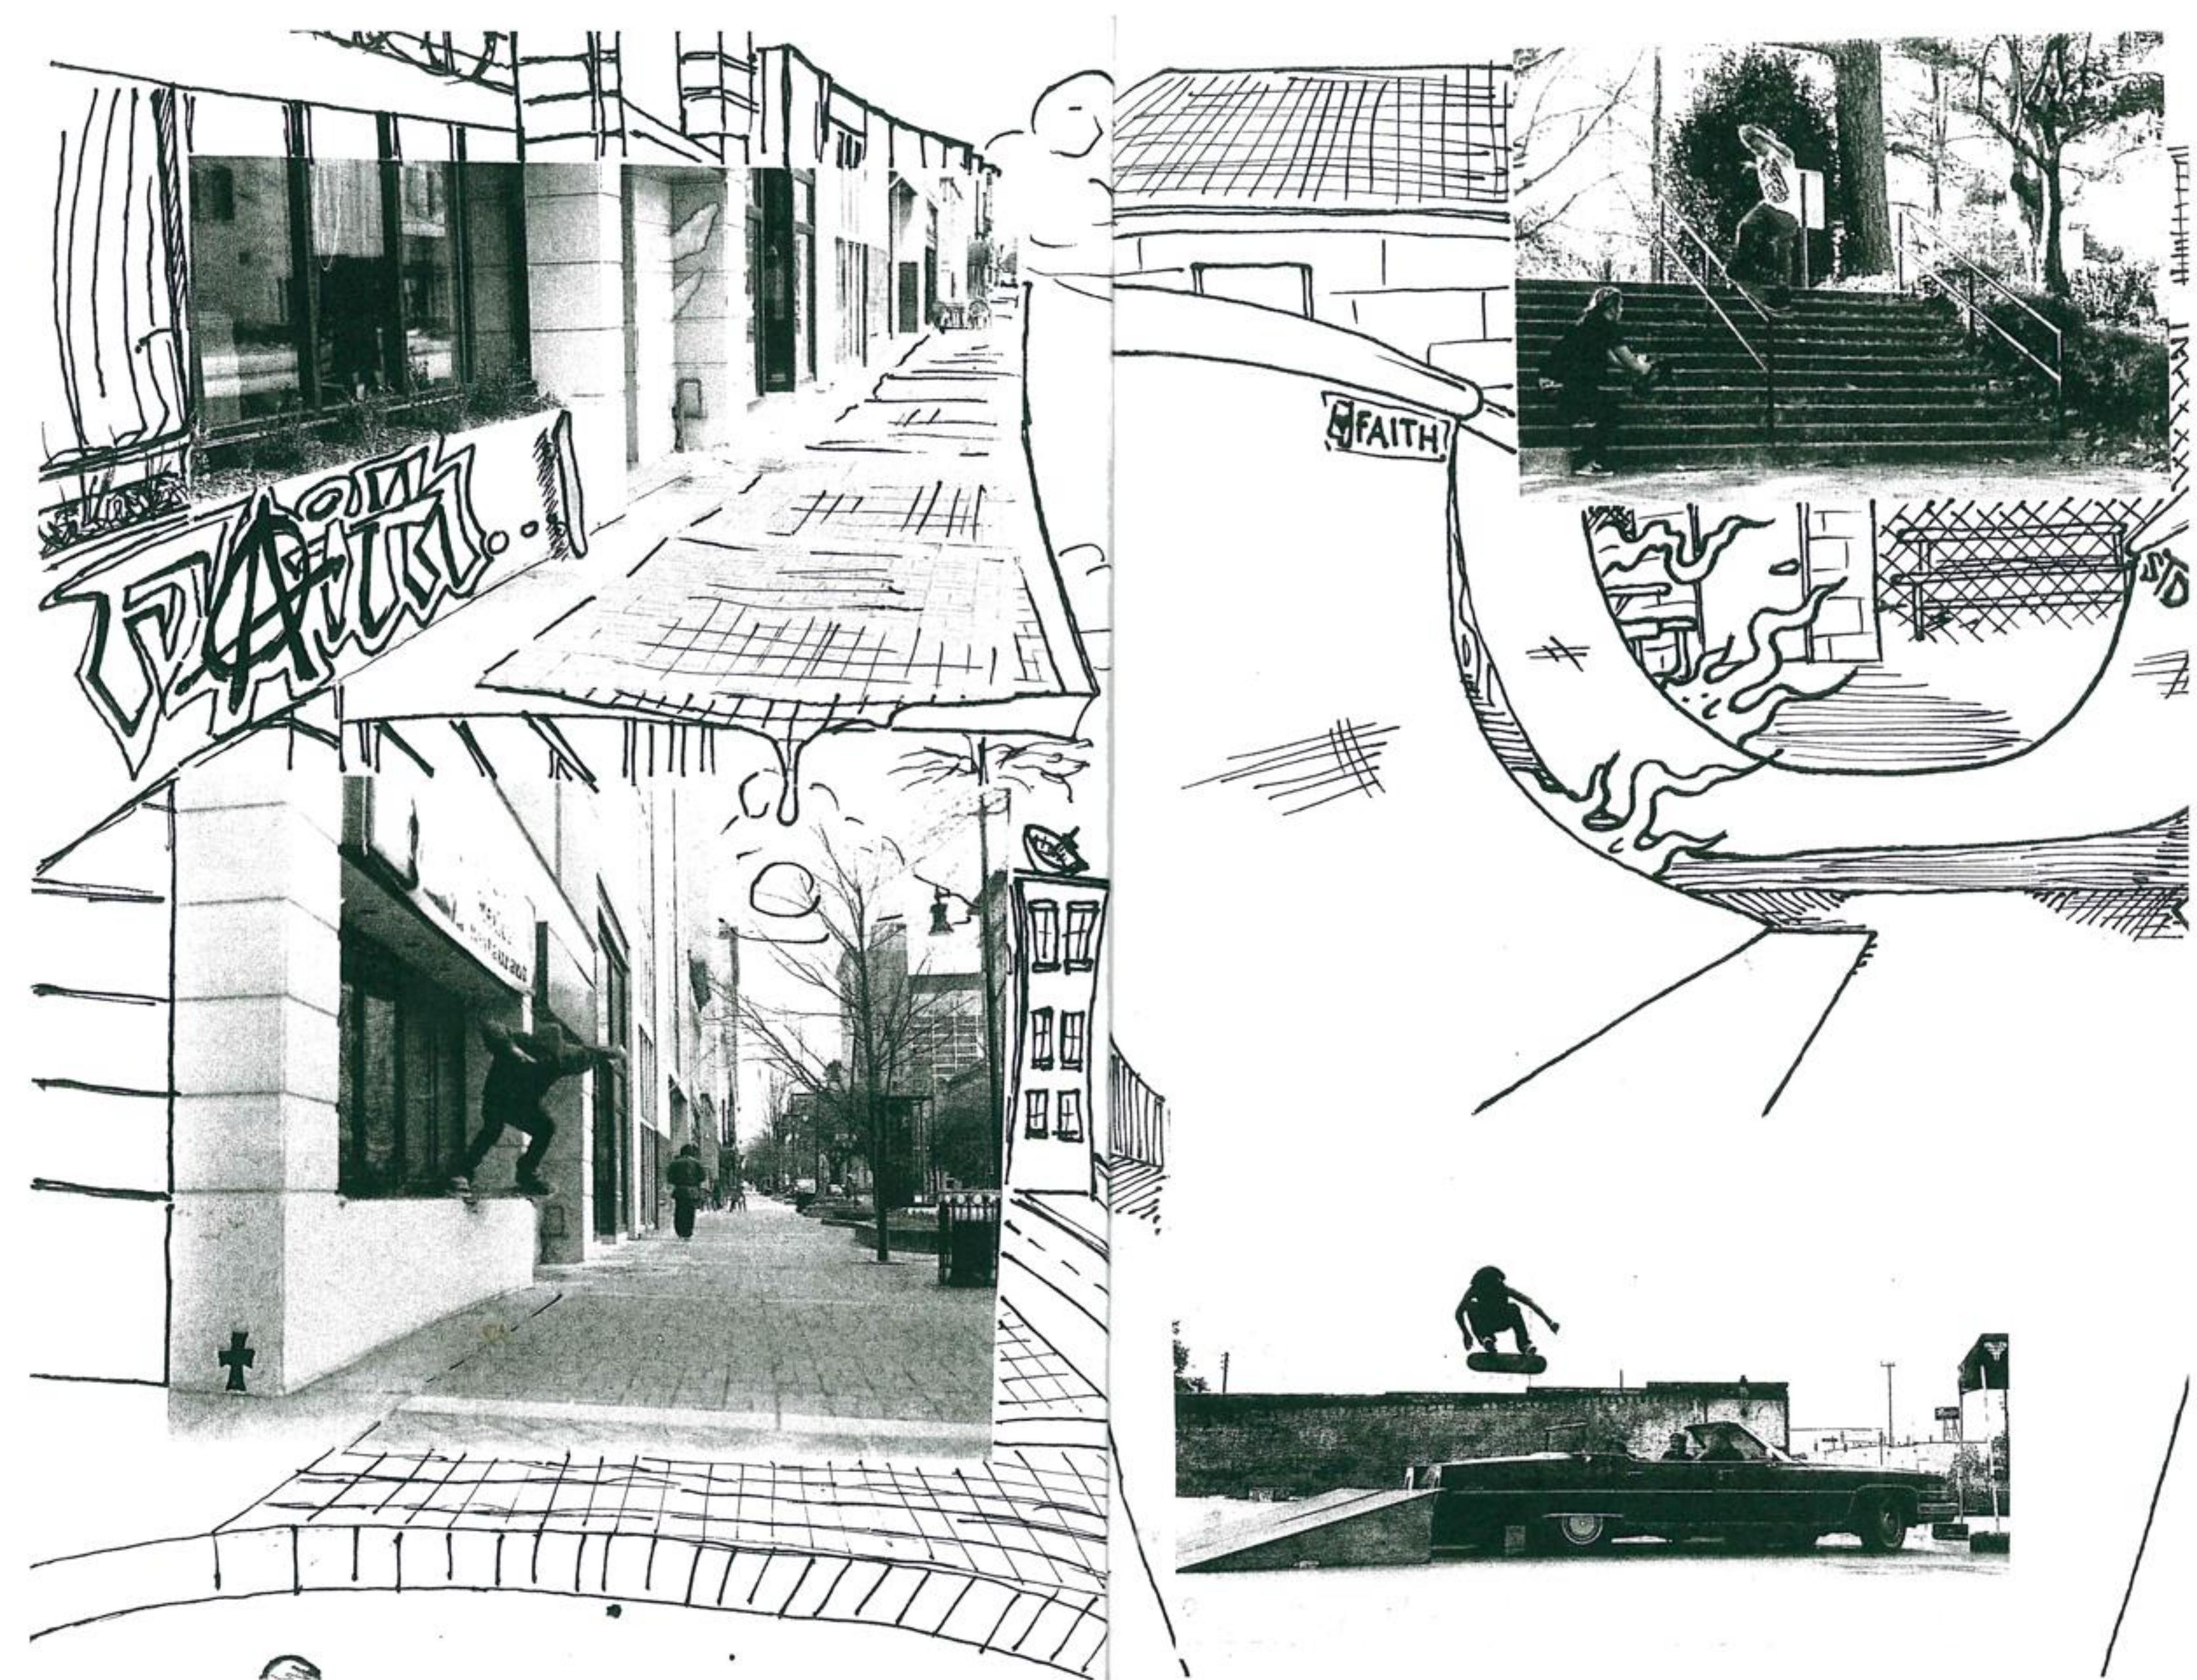

j. harb dreaming about
Airs & Bombs.

S . T . D .

getting jiggy on the front feels!

windshield ride

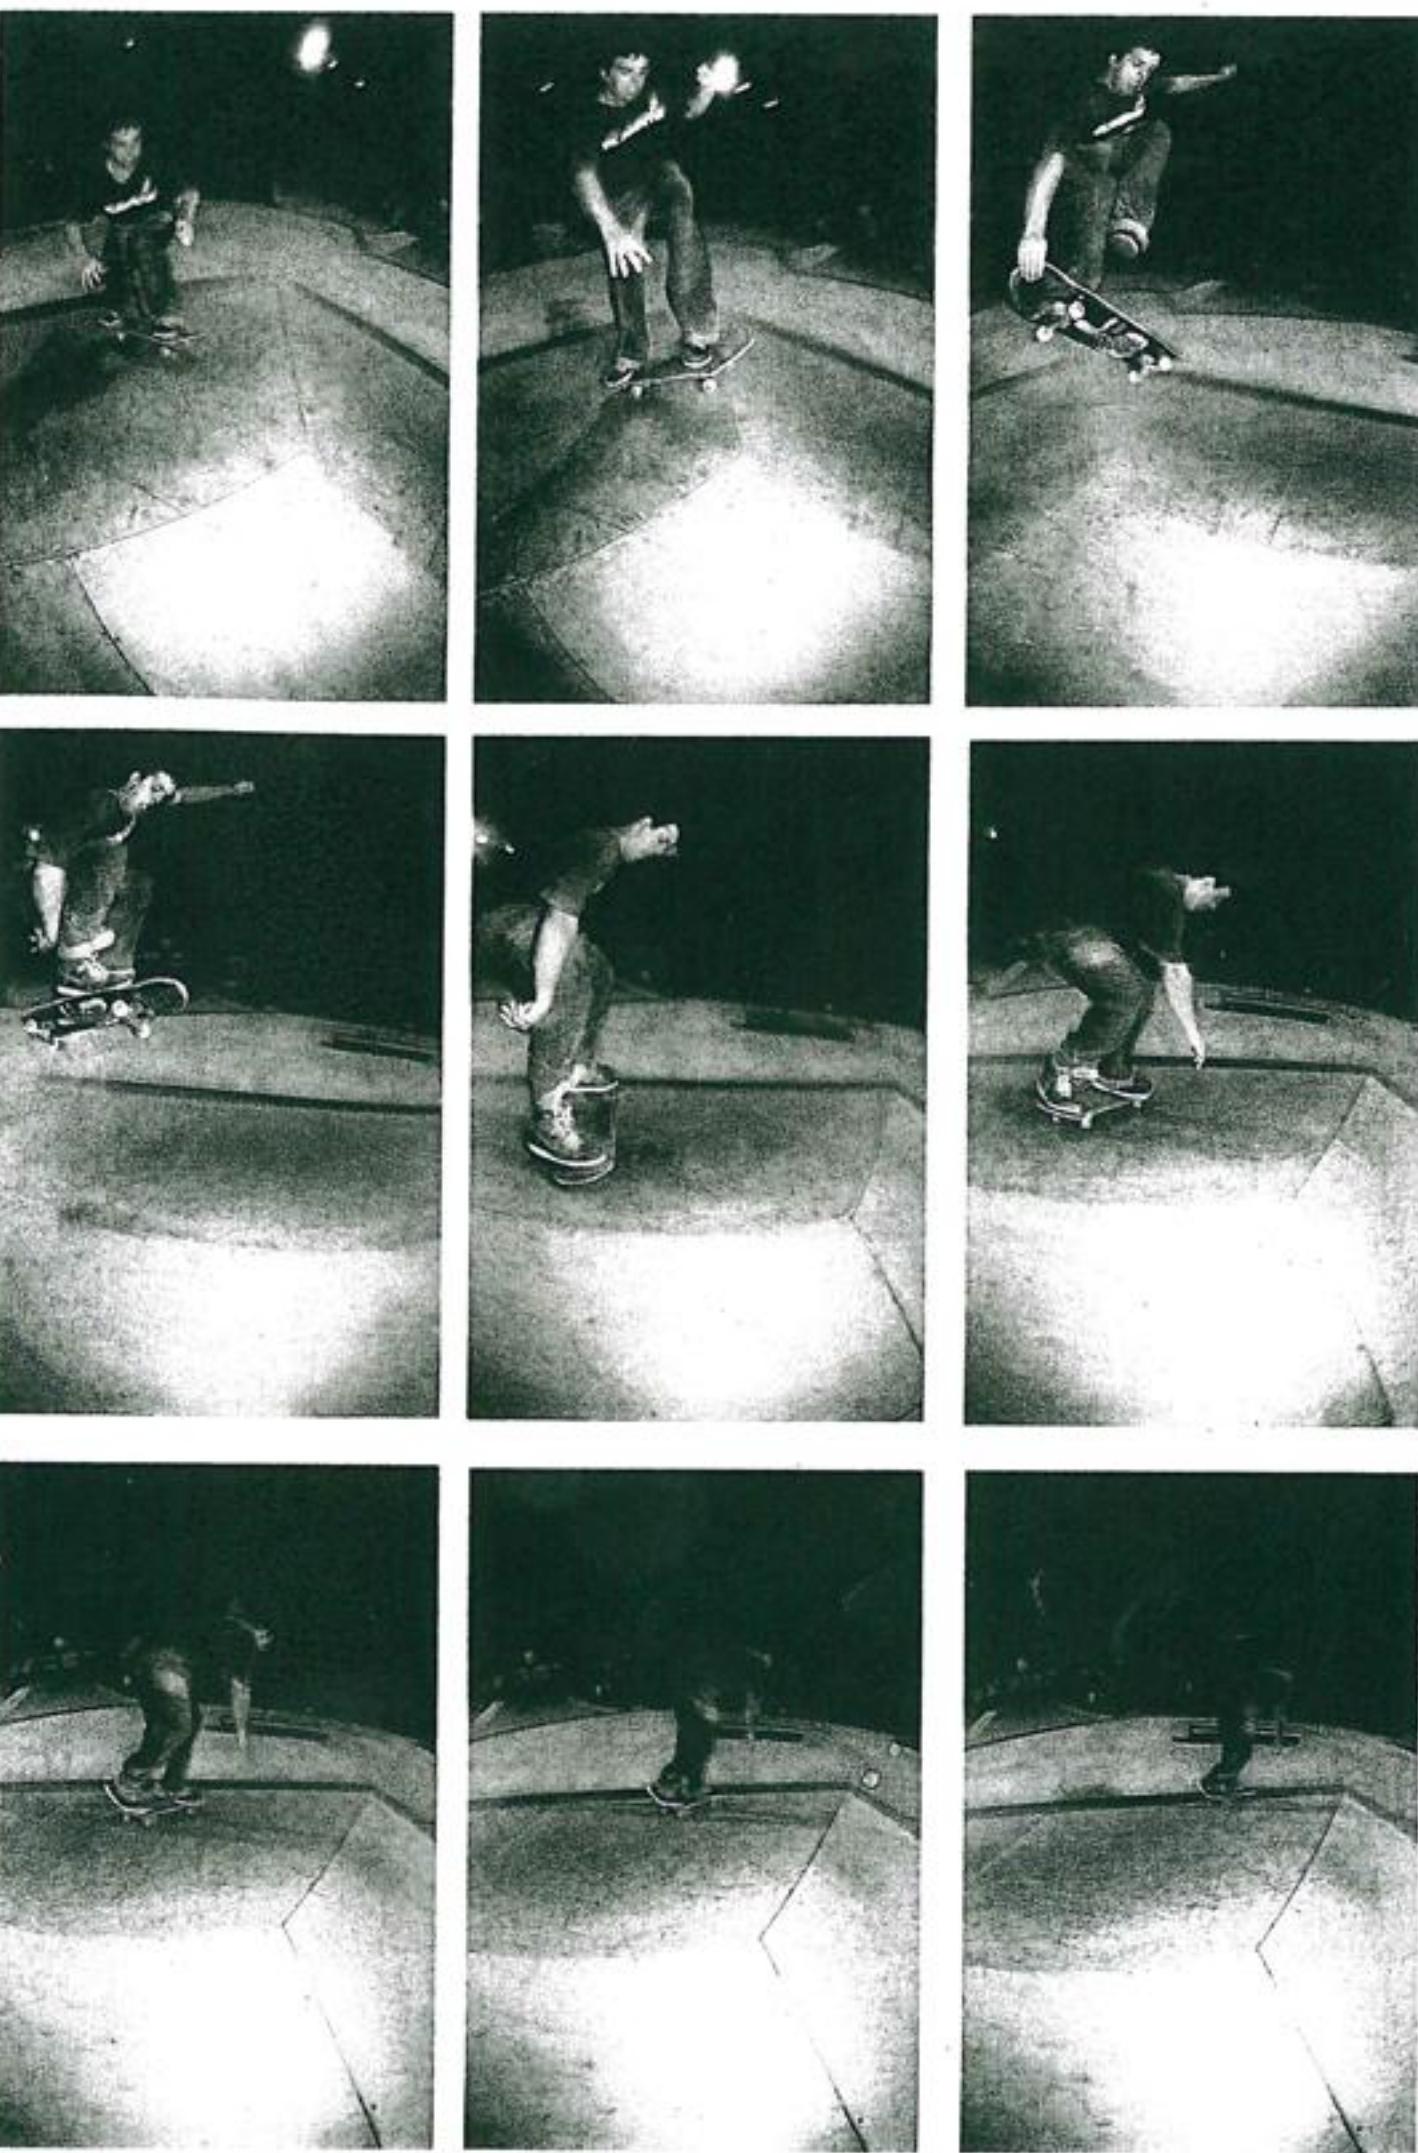

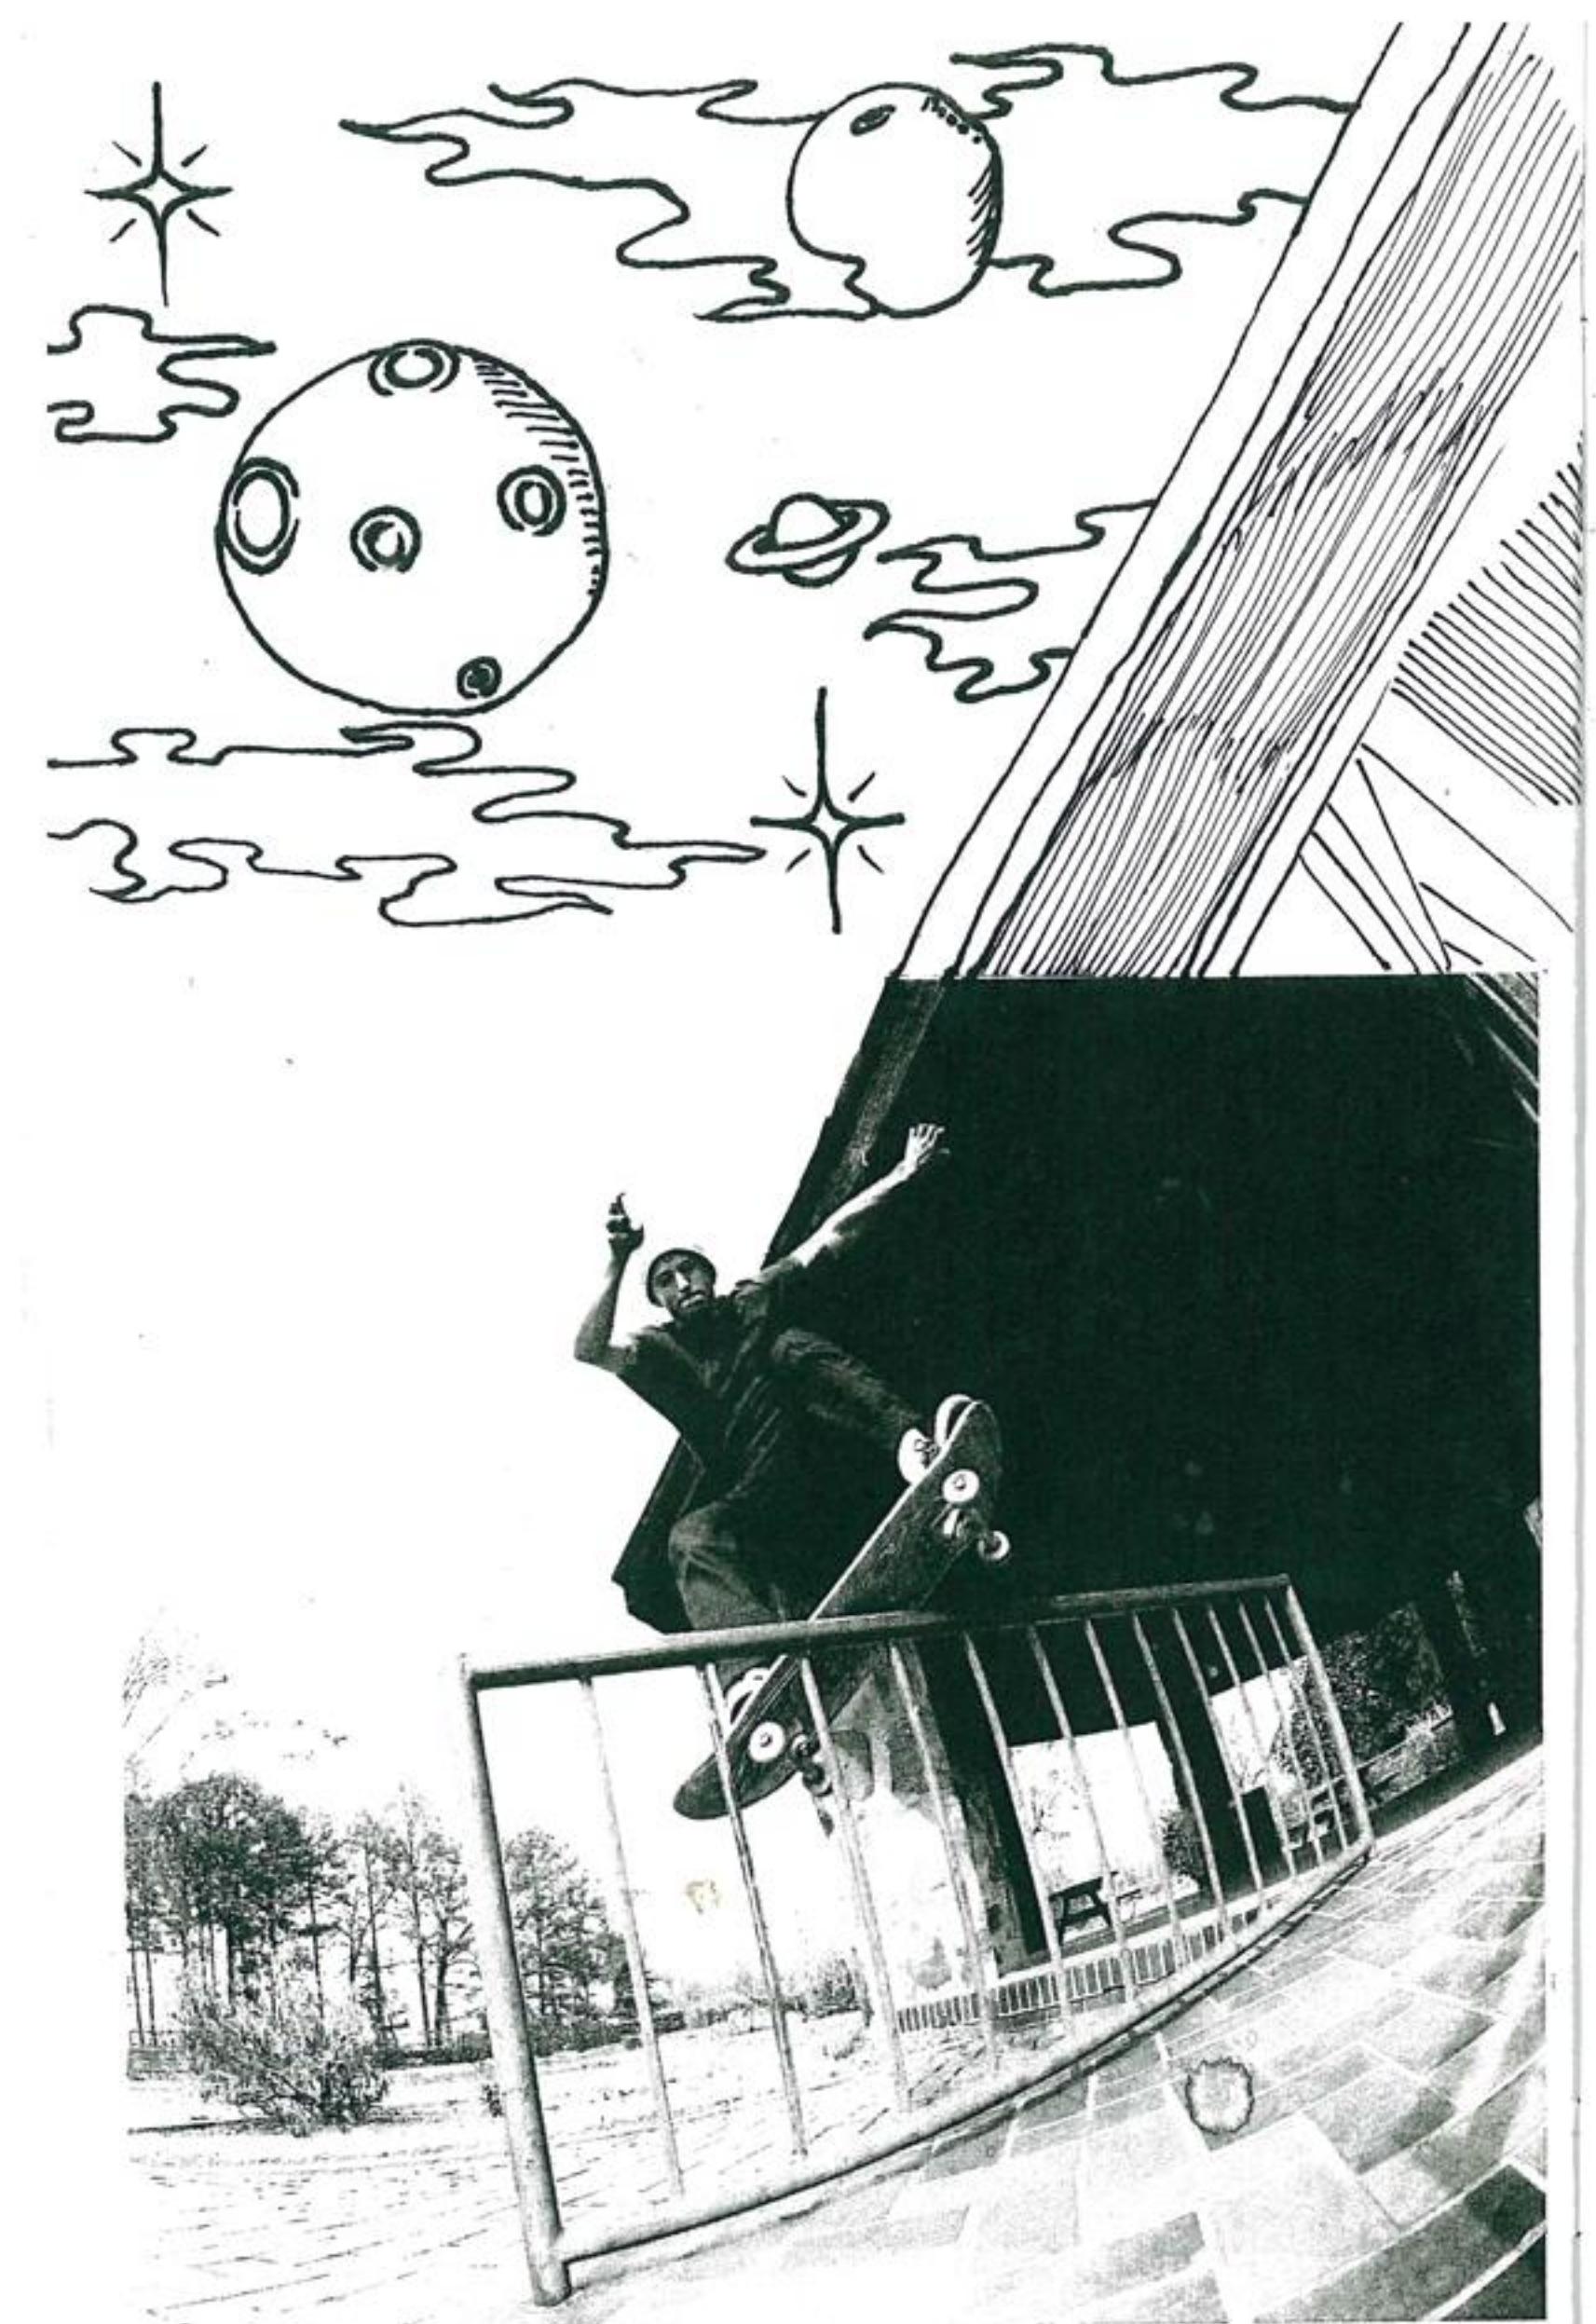

no-footer

in the fastlane
since yall
was in diapers

the COPS keep them clean, we just skate them Dirty

Skaters pictured in this issue : Kraig Kirk, Turner Little, Phil Foreman, Ross da Boss, Garrett Tindle, Jacob Hayes, Josh Harbison, Justin Cruce, Alex Bransford, Will Smith, Peter Karonen, Brian Tedder, Kyle Hudson, Stephen Gould ...

Skate the Dirthy — issue #2.

- all photos : Daniel Lawson
- art by : David Wright , Christian N-Kerr , silly Wang